Ministers Prepare For Budget Session

Busy Tackling Accumulated Arrears Of Legislative Business

The Ministers of the Government of Bombay have been busy since they shifted to Bombay from Poona early this week.

The sessions of the Legislative Assembly and Legislative Council at Poona are over but piles of arrears of work relating to the activities have accumulated

The Ministers are meeting in a conference at the residence of Dr. M. D. Gilder at Ridge Road every day where undisturbed by the members of the public, they are not only reducing the piles of the files but also preparing for the next session of the Assembly and Council which will meet in January next.

TENANCY BILL

The Land Tenancy Bill, which was introduced by Mr. Morarji Desai, Revenue Member, during the Poona session, is under the consideration of the Ministers, as it requires some modification. If this Bill is introduced in the January session, it will be referred to a Select Committee.

The other Bills under the consideration of the Ministers are the Money Lenders Bill which is likely to go to the Select Committee next session. Another important measure the Hon. Ministers are contemplating is the amendment of the Land Revenue Code but it is doubtful if it would be ready for the next session. It might be introduced in the Poona Session.

IRRIGATION REPORT.

Then there is another important measure which has occupied the Ministers' consideration for the past two days, viz., the report of the Irrigation Committee Mr. Nurie, Minister for Public Works, had inspected irrigation works in various parts of the presidency including Hyderabad State and his memorandum on the Report is very comprehensive.

Besides these questions, there are other important matters like the extension of prohibition. Wardha Education Scheme, and the report of the Criminal Tribes Enquiry Committee over which the Ministers would confabulate the next two days.

The Ministers will then disperse to different parts of the presidency. Mr. B. G. Kher will go to Poona and thence to Karnatak. Mr. K. M. Munshi intends to spend a few days at Matheran. Mr. Nurie will go to Ahmedabad and Kathiawad. Mr. Latthe and Mr. Morarji Desai intend going to Delhi to attend the Marketing Conference. Dr. M. D. Gilder and Mr. L. M. Patil may remain in Bombay as their programme is not settled yet.

The Ministers will meet again in Bombay on December 10.

Maharaja's A.D.C. Injured

Sequel To Victoria-Car Collision At Colaba

Capt. P. Jethaji, A.D.C., to H. H. the Maharaja of Porbandar, sustained injuries in a collision which occurred between a motor-car and a victoria at Wodehouse Bridge, Colaba, on Tuesday night.

It is stated that Capt. Jethaji was going along the road in a victoria, when a car coming from the opposite direction dashed into it and he was thrown on the road. The driver of the car is stated to have absconded after the accident.

Sub-Inspector Engineer of the Colaba Police Station having been informed of the accident arrived on the scene and took the A.D.C. to the G. T. Hospital. After treatment the A.D.C. decided to go back to the Taj Mahal Hotel, where he is putting up.

The Colaba Police are investigating the matter.

Ex-Premier's Tactics

EUROPEAN GROUP'S CIRCULAR

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).
TEZPUR: NOV. 22.

THE OPPOSITION IN THE ASSAM ASSEMBLY IS DETERMINED TO MOVE A VOTE OF "NO CONFIDENCE" AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT ON DECEMBER 1, AND THE FIRST MOTION IS LIKELY TO BE THAT OF SIR M. SA'ADULLA, EX-PREMIER, HIMSELF, ACCORDING TO PRIVATE ADVICES RECEIVED FROM SHILLONG.

NOVEMBER 27 HAS BEEN FIXED FOR THE CONGRESS COALITION PARTY MEETING WHERE THE ACTUAL PARTY STRENGTH OF THE GOVERNMENT WILL BE WEIGHED.

European's Tactics

THE REVELATION OF THE EUROPEAN GROUP'S PRIVATE AND CONFIDENTIAL CIRCULARS HAS BEEN OF GREAT VALUE TO GOVERNMENT ON THE EVE OF THE ASSEMBLY SESSION, AS THEY HAVE BEEN VERY BADLY EXPOSED BEFORE THE COUNTRY.

A EUROPEAN PLANTER MEMBER INTERVIEWED SAID THAT NOT ALL OF THEM WERE FOLLOWING CLEARLY AND SUPPORTING WHAT MR. F. W. HOCKENHALL WAS DOING WITH THE CIRCULARS AT SHILLONG. BUT EUROPEANS IN ASSAM ARE FACED WITH A PROBLEM WITH THE CONGRESS COMING INTO POWER, SAID HE, WHICH THEY NEVER EXPERIENCED DURING THEIR CENTURY-LONG STAY IN INDIA. THEIR INTERESTS WERE AT STAKE.

WITH THESE PEOPLE IN OPPOSITION SIR M. SA'ADULLA HOPES TO CARRY THROUGH HIS "NO-CONFIDENCE" MOTION.

Another Puppet Regime In China

Japanese Plan To Consolidate Gains By Amalgamation Of Peiping And Nanking

TOKIO'S "NO" TO U. S. A.

CHUNKING, Nov. 22.

With the Japanese occupation of Peiping, Shanghai, Nanking, Canton and Hankow, it is believed that the Japanese will consolidate the gains and establish a puppet regime with the name of "New Central Government of China" through amalgamation of the Peiping and Nanking regimes. The Japanese will hold Yochow, strategic city, and the Canton-Hankow Railway, thereby guarding the approach to Hankow from the south.—Reuter.

Japanese Pushed Back

LONDON, Nov. 22.

Chinese forces are "fighting back to the vicinity of Canton," says a telegram from the Chinese Foreign Ministry at Chungking received by "Reuter" in London.

The telegram adds that it is reported that Japanese at Canton have been reinforced by 30,000 men from Amoy. Successes are also claimed for Chinese forces in Central China.

It is stated that the Japanese have been pushed back to a point two and a half miles from Yochow and the Japanese advance west of Hankow has been checked.—Reuter.

U. S. REACTION TO TOKIO'S "NO"

WASHINGTON: Nov. 22.

Mr. Cordell Hull declared that Japan's reply to his note of October 6 was unsatisfactory.—Reuter.

A Tokio message of Nov. 18 stated:—

Mr. Hull said that the Japanese Government were not responsive to the position of the United States Government, as set forth in the Note of October 6, nor to the general position, which the United States adopted throughout ist history regarding American rights and interests in relations, not only with China, but all other countries.

Mr. Hull added he preferred to withhold further comment until the State Department had more time to study the substance and implications of the Japanese reply.—Reuter.

(A denial of the charge that discriminatory measures are taken against American rights and interests in China is contained in the Japanese reply to the American Note handed to the American Ambassador.

The reply after answering in detail, the points raised in the Note points out it is the Japanese Government's "firm conviction" that any attempt to apply to conditions to-day and to-morrow the inapplicable ideas and principles of the past would neither contribute to the establishment of real peace in East Asia nor solve its immediate issues).

Russian Arms For China?

British Steamer Brings Armaments To Rangoon

TOKYO, Nov. 22.

According to reports here, a British steamer has arrived in Rangoon from Odessa (Ukraine) with 6,000 tons of aeroplanes, arms and ammunition destined for China. Four other steamers are also expected to arrive in Rangoon by December 31. It is stated these munitions will be transhipped by river boats up the Irrawaddy river to Manadalay whence they will be carried inland to Yunnan via Bhamo or via Lashio and Muse. The new highway recently completed between Lashio and Muse on Burma frontier is 131 miles long.

Reuter understands that the new Lashio-Muse roadway is already in a state of considerable desrepair, some sections of the highway having slipped down the mountain sides, rendering the passage of motor transport exceedingly hazardous.—Reuter.

JAPAN'S SOUTHWARD DRIVE CHECKED

CHUNGKING, Nov. 22.

The Japanese southward drive from Hankow along the northern section of Canton-Hankow Railway into Hunan Province is believed to have been halted at least temporarily.

MUSLIM MINISTER FOR C. P.

NAGPUR, Nov. 22.

An early announcement, possibly within a week, is expected for the choice of a Muslim Minister for the C. P. Cabinet in succession to Mr. M. Y. Shareef, who resigned on 21st of May following the Zaffar Hussain episode since when the Muslim seat in the C. P. Congress Cabinet has been vacant.

It is believed in certain quarters that soon after Maulana Abul Kalam Azad's arrival at Wardha next week, decision will be reached and an unattached Muslim member of the C. P. Assembly who has been returned as an Independent candidate, Mr. Abdul Razak Khan is considered the most likely candidate to be selected as the Muslim Minister, as he is willing to sign the Congress Pledge and join the Congress Parliamentary Party.

According to another report, the announcement of the choice of a new Muslim Minister may be delayed till the ensuing meeting of the Congress Working Committee at Wardha early in December when all members of the Congress Parliamentary Sub-Committee will be present. A. P.

A Jewish resident of Munich who "complained" he was beaten by the police was (as shown in the picture) forced to walk through the streets with the sign "I will never complain to the police".

ECONOMIC STRINGENCY HITS RAJKOT STATE

Arrests In Rural Areas And Of Bombay Batch: More Powers For Police

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).
RAJKOT: NOV. 22.

THE OFFICIAL CIRCLES ARE CONSIDERABLY DISTURBED BY SARDAR PATEL'S SPEECH LAST NIGHT AT AHMEDABAD. IT IS YET TOO EARLY TO SAY WHAT WOULD BE THE REACTION TO THE SPEECH.

Bombay Batch Arrested

THE KATHIAWAR BATCH, WHICH ARRIVED THIS MORNING, WAS NOT ARRESTED; WHILE THE BOMBAY BATCH UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF MR. YAGNIK, WAS ARRESTED SHORTLY AFTER THEIR ARRIVAL. MEMBERS OF MR. YAGNIK'S BATCH WERE RELEASED NEAR THE JAIL GATES.

MORE POWERS FOR POLICE

The Police have been given additional powers to search places on suspicion without warrants and the Police were again busy to-day.

The daily programme of picketing at Durbargarh, however, is being carried out without any interruption.

The State authorities have now won over some grain brokers to work on their behalf to dispose off the State's share of the rural produce.

One of the consequences of the agitation was the closing down of the Dhankunvarba Dispensary by the State owing to alleged financial stringency. It is reported that a few more State institutions would be closed down for the same reason.

ARRESTS AT SARDHAR

Six workers in Sardhar Mahal and eight in Cuhadwa Mahal were arrested yesterday, prominent among them being Mr. Shambhushanker Trivedi and Swami Shivanand. As a protest a "Hartal" was observed in Sardhar.

NEED OF WINTER CLOTHES

The Parishad has appealed to incoming volunteers to come equipped with bedding and kit and sufficient clothes in view of the cold weather.

To-day in the Azad Chowk a public meeting was held when Mr. Keshavlal Bodani and Miss Maniben Patel spoke. No police were present at the meeting.

BHAVNAGAR SCHOLARS' BATCH

One Day Programme By Hyderabad Congress

(From Our Correspondent.)
HYDERABAD (Dn.), Nov. 22.

Great excitement prevails in the Nizam's dominion at the approach of the Hyderabad State Congress Day, which falls, tomorrow, to herald the completion of the first month of the Satyagraha campaign started by the Congress on October 24.

The charge of communalism levelled against the Congress by the Government time and again was refuted stoutly by the Congress dictators in the course of their statements and further illustration of the great consideration shown by the Congress organisers is being evidenced by the fact that, though the actual completion of the first month of Satyagraha falls due on November 24 the organisers have announced that it should be celebrated a day earlier in view of the fact that the 24th happening to be an important festival day for Muslims due to Ramzan Id.

The programme, it is understood, includes taking out Prabhat Pheri's, selling Congress badges and literature by volunteers, addressing public meetings, observance of strike by mill workers suspension of work by agriculturists, no attendance at schools and colleges by students, complete "Hartal" by tongawalas and taxicabs, ban on Nizam's postal stamps and Osmania currency which would result in complete paralisation of business for the day.

The Headquarters of the State Congress has issued definite instructions that all districts should observe similar programme with complete non-violence and truth marking every action of [illegible].

AROUND THE COURTS

Bombay, Tuesday.

Baba Vithu, an unemployed worker, was arrested on a charge of theft of ornament valued at Rs. 270 from a boarding house kept by an old woman at Bhowiwada.

The accused was remanded into police custody by Mr. M. A.F. Coelho, at the Dadar Police Court this morning.

Faqir Mohamed (30) was arrested by the Pydhoni Police as, it is alleged he was stealing a motor car from a Garage at Musjid Bunder Road, yesterday. He was chased and arrested when he was driving away.

The Second Presidency Magistrate remanded him into police custody till the 5th December.

Interesting details of a quarrel between two neighbours resulting in one of them being lifted and thrown out from the first floor were related to-day before the Chief Presidency Magistrate, when Bajirao Rajaram was put up on remand.

The police stated that the accused had a quarrel with his neighbour S. L. Mayaker, yesterday. He is alleged to have picked up Mayaker and thrown him to the ground floor. Mayaker received injuries and was removed to the G. T. Hospital.

The Magistrate directed the accused to be released on bail.

NOV. 7 ARRESTS: BAIL PERIOD OF PERSONS EXTENDED

Of the 18 persons arrested on the 7th November, when city workers observed the day as one-day strike, on charges of unlawful assembly rioting and causing grievous hurt ten persons were bailed out for another period this morning at the Dadar Police Court. Mr. K. N. Joglekar, Labour Leader, stood surety for them in a sum of Rs. 100 each and (Rs. 20 cash) having been paid in each case.

150 HOURS IN HOME LOCK-UP?

"I do not want to stay any minute longer with my husband. He has been cruel to me and might kill me."

This pitiful appeal was made yesterday by a young woman to the police who came to her rescue.

It is stated that she had been locked up in the room for nearly 150 hours without food and even a drop of water.

The police, it is said, received information yesterday that a married woman was being ill-treated by her husband and that he had locked her up in a room for six days without giving her a morsel of food or a drop of water. The police went to the room in question, and pushed the door open which was bolted from inside.

The husband and wife were inside. The woman requested the police to rescue her. The police then took charge of the woman in question and removed her to a rescue home. The husband was arrested.

The accused was placed to-day before the Chief Presidency Magistrate and directed to be released on bail.

HOUSE-BREAKERS BUSY

A police officer, in applying for a remand of Jari Mahomed Abdulla and two others arrested yesterday on suspicion, stated there was an epidemic of house-breaking and theft cases in the Pydhonie section. The accused are suspected to be implicated in some cases.

The Chief Presidency Magistrate directed the accused to be remanded to custody.

TALK OF THE SUBURBS

FURTHER RESULTS OF BANDRA MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

(BY A SUBURBAN MAN.)

After 30 days of fasting the Muslims will be celebrating tomorrow their gala annual festival. The day of this festival in the suburbs is one that is observed with great pomp and devotion. From the very early hours of the morning the various mosques in the suburbs will hold special Id prayers. At the newly completed Bandra Mosque near the Mahim Causeway the number of devotees that will attend prayers it is expected will be the largest. Throughout the day merry-making will rend the air and I understand many of the elected Muslim candidates on the Bandra Municipal Board, are to celebrate this day with a treat to their workers and well-wishers.

EXPANSION OF PRINCES CHAMBER

Nawanagar's Suggestion Accepted

At a Committee, appointed by the informal meeting of Princes in February, 1937, which met at the Taj Mahal Hotel on Tuesday, a scheme is understood to have been evolved, by which more States would be admitted to the 'Chamber' of 'Princes.'

The meeting was presided over by H. H. the Jam Saheb of Nawanagar, Chancellor of the Chamber of Princes.

"Princes in their own right, that is, such of them who are entitled to a salute of 11 guns and above, would be admitted on a suitable criteria.

JAM SAHEB TO RESCUE.

At the outset, although certain difficulties were stated to have cropped up, the suggestions put forward by the Jam Saheb turned the corner, it is learnt, with the result that the meeting, which was to adjourn and sit for another day, suddenly concluded its deliberations.

"The committee discussed the question fully, and frankly and arrived at a unanimous agreement as to admission of more members to the Chamber," says a Communique issued at the end of the meeting, which sat for nearly five hours.

H. H. the Maharaja of Bikaner, Maharaja of Patiala and the ruling princes of Wankaner and Bilaspur attended the meeting.

AVOID ARAB RIYALS

Warning To Hedjaz Pilgrims

Counterfeit Arab riyals have been found in circulation in the markets of Saudi Arabia. The authorities are alarmed by the circulation of these false coins, and feel that if it is allowed to continue, the prosperity of the country will be affected. The Saudi Government is not sure whether these counterfeit coins are manufactured in the country or imported from abroad. They have, therefore, adopted strong measures to ensure that persons uttering these forged coins are dealt with severely.

Orders have been issued to merchants and traders enjoining them carefully to examine Arab riyals paid to them, and to hand over to the authorities any person who passes them any false coin. In the circumstances, pilgrims to the Hedjaz should avoid carrying riyals, for two reasons—first, they will be running the risk of having them confiscated, on their arrival in the Hedjaz, and second, they may unwittingly come into possession of coins which may involve them in detention and enquiry.

THE QUICK STOPPER

What have we here? Traffic leapfrog, perhaps? No. Well, then may be the humiliated gent in front has tried to see how quickly he could stop.

Forgot to signal, did he? Well, he'll soon be signalling for the police before that husky truck driver gets through with him. He thinks the driver should have seen him stop, anyhow.

That's what some drivers always think. Thinking doesn't pay, at least not when you think wrong. Decide to-day to learn to give correct signals and to give them so they can be clearly seen by the driver behind you. That is safety and courtesy too.

Remember this is COURTESY WEEK.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY FOR COMPROMISE

Case Against Veterinary Hospital Men

The case in which Muncher-shaw Rustomji Kolah, Secretary and Treasurer of the Bai Sakarbai D. Petit Hospital (for animals) filed a case against 33 employees of the hospital on charges of wrongful restraint, criminal intimidation and abetment came up for hearing on Tuesday before Mr. K. C. Thakore Additional Presidency Magistrate, Dadar Police Court.

Three more cases involving the wife and son of the Manager of the Hospital and Sakharam Rama a Mukadam of the Hospital are also pending in the same court.

The case arose out of a lightning strike by the men on September 27th last when they were asked to quit and did not do so. They were not prepared to move out, nor were they prepared to surrender their uniforms till they were paid their wages which amounted to about Rs. 650, The men are members of the Bombay General Workers Union.

The parties parted on the day of the last hearing with the intention of coming to terms so that the cases might be compounded. They informed the court on Tuesday that the negotiations had broken down.

But they again agreed to consider a suggestion that the men be paid Rs. 450 forthwith, about Rs. 200 being withheld to enable the Hospital authorities to recover the cost of any civil action that might arise on the initiative of the men in case it won that case, and that the present cases be compounded.

The case was again posted to 29th November for further hearing.

Mr. S. M. Varde assisted by Mr. R. D. Kowli appeared for the accused and Mr. B. J. Petit for the complainant.

The condition of one of the injured is said to be quite precarious. Police inquiries are proceeding.

Pimples, Spots, Blotchy Skin...

A Victim of HALF-HEALTH!

She doesn't realise that beauty is more than skin deep. Rubbing on creams outside won't help her. She had better face the fact that spots and pimples are caused by something wrong inside—that a bad complexion is just another symptom of Half-Health.

There is no wiser or more natural means of Health Control than the regular use of ENO's "Fruit Salt". That daily glass of sparkling ENO restores and maintains normal vigorous health. Gently, yet efficiently, it eliminates stagnant waste matter, cleanses the system of dangerous toxins, purifies the blood and stimulates the digestive juices to healthy action. In fact, ENO removes the root cause of a bad complexion.

If you are a victim of Half-Health, take a teaspoonful of ENO's "Fruit Salt" in a glass of water first thing every morning for a week or ten days. Then note the difference.

ENO forms no habit and can never cease to be effective. It contains no harmful mineral salts and no sugar. Its pleasant refreshing taste needs no disguise.

BOMBAY: WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1938

A TIMELY WARNING

In his address at a public meeting at Ahmedabad on Monday Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel gave a timely warning to the Princes that, if they would not soon grant responsible government to the States people, the events of Rajkot would be repeated in every one of the States. It was a somewhat outspoken warning but not more so than the occasion demanded. He did not blur the issues or compromise in the least the States' people's demand. The demand, he said in the plainest terms, was nothing less than full responsible government. Just at the present moment, Rajkot was leading the struggle for winning that goal not merely for itself but also for all the sister States. And it was impossible for the leading State to compromise in the least the demand of the States in general. To the Rajkot Ruler himself the Sardar made a most friendly appeal to identify himself completely with his people, concede gracefully what must finally be conceded, and thereby set a worthy example to the other Princes and render a great service to his motherland. It will be wise from every point of view for the Ruler to respond promptly and worthily to the appeal and be in the words of the Sardar, a model Prince of India. The people are bound "to carry on their struggle till they succeed." They are united as one man and ready to make every necessary sacrifice. Moreover, the support, in men and money, they are receiving from various quarters shows that there are millions to back up Rajkot for the simple reason that it is for the millions of States' people that Rajkot is leading an uncompromising struggle. Commonest commonsense should help the Ruler of Rajkot to realise that the Sardar, a fellow-countryman, is an infinitely truer friend of his than a non-Indian like Sir Patrick Cadell, who has been thrust upon him as his Dewan against his will.

An Appeal To Princes

The appeal to the Rajkot Ruler is in effect an appeal to all the Princes, particularly to those like Hyderabad, Mysore and Travancore who claim to be progressive and responsive to the claims of the people. These latter should lose no time in publicly recognising the people's claims and grant them fully at the earliest possible moment. We know that some of them are seriously considering the question but seem inclined to concede only paltry make-believe reforms. There are reports of such reforms being impending in certain Kathiawar States including Rajkot, and the Maharajah of Bhavnagar and his Dewan, it is stated, have prepared a scheme. The Ruler of Aundh has already announced a scheme of partial responsible government. But such partial reforms will not satisfy the people who will carry on their struggle till they get complete responsible government. It will be well for the Princes not to misunderstand the Haripura Congress resolution of friendliness towards the Princes and non-intervention in their internal affairs. But, as Sardar Vallabhbhai pertinently pointed out, the Congress cannot look on if the Princes played the tyrant and inflicted suffering on the people peacefully demanding responsible government.

People Are Paramount

Power

A common excuse trotted out by some Princes is that, though British Indians have been trained for responsible government by long experience in local self-government and partial autonomy in the shape of dyarchy, the people in most of the States have no such training and, therefore, cannot be straightway entrusted with full responsible government. A fitting reply to this excuse has already been given by the Sardar. If callow boy-Princes can be trusted to ascend the gadi and administer their States, if the States are well administered even when the Princes spend months after months in foreign countries, trusted representatives of the people can administer the States far better. And the people in the most backward States are intelligent enough to know who are their best representatives. Even to-day they are demonstrating their capacity for organisation and discipline in the struggle they are now carrying on for freedom. Another excuse put forward by certain Princes is that they cannot constitutionally surrender all their powers to the people without the consent of the Paramount Power, though they can surrender many or even most of them. Here, again, the Sardar has rightly pointed out that it is the people that are really the Paramount Power. The Rulers or their guides are only trustees so long as the people allow them to act as such. Moreover, the Paramount Power has publicly stated in Parliament that Paramountcy, as the British understand it, is no bar to the regime of responsible government in the States. If the British Government, while saying so publicly put forward reservations secretly, such of the Princes, as are sincere in their sympathy with the people's claims, should straightway transfer to them all such powers they can immediately transfer and, for the rest, let their popular Ministries deal with the British Government.

Jewish Refugee Problem

Mr. Chamberlain has made in the House of Commons an interesting statement on the problem of Jewish refugees. According to him the British Government have seriously taken up the question and intend to settle as many Jews as possible in the British Colonies including Tanganyika. The reference to Tanganyika, an old colony of Germany, is not without significance. It raises the hope that it may be taken to mean another indication of Britain's determination not to surrender any territory to the Nazis. What is even more important is the fact that the German reaction to Mr. Chamberlain's declaration about Tanganyika is not one of—shall we say, proprietory protest; which confirms the impression that the question of colonies is not to be forced by the Nazis for the time being. Mr. Chamberlain's efforts are, of course, admirable. But why is it that he—and presumably his fellow-statesmen in other countries—are eager to discharge their human duty only on the territories of "backward" peoples—an area of 10,000 square miles is to be given in British Guiana, for instance. Hundreds of thousands of Jews can be easily absorbed by so-called civilised countries particularly the Dominions, the U.S.A. and South America. The decisions of the Evian Committee, which is shortly to meet, will constitute the test of honesty in the professions of sympathy by them.

A REACTIONARY SUGGESTION

Mr. M. C. Rajah, a Harijan leader of Madras, bitterly complains that of the 30 Harijan members of the Madras Legislative Assembly 27 are Congressmen and belong to the Congress Party. That is certainly not a matter for complaint. It only shows the gratitude of the Harijans to the Congress for the good it has done to them and their expectation to do a great deal more by wholeheartedly cooperating with it. He contends that their large number does not help their community but only the Congress Party as they are bound by Congress discipline. But Congress Harijan members have been given the freedom to vote independently on matters pertaining to their community, though they were elected on the Congress ticket and on the strength of the Congress programme. In these circumstances Mr. Rajah's plea for a separate party of all Harijan members is reactionary and most harmful to the Harijans themselves. We are sure they will not countenance the idea. And even if in the future Mr. Rajah forms a separate Harijan Party, he will again find that very few of its candidates will be elected and that the Congress Harijans will still be returned in large numbers.

Imperial Conference

Opportunity For Settling Indian Question

(From Our Own Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 11.

Messages from Canberra hint at the possibility that the National Government intends to summon a meeting of all the Dominion Governments in the New Year. The Dominions Office refuse to make any comment on these reports, either to confirm or deny them. This very attitude in official quarters lends colour to the rumours that Mr. Chamberlain is thinking of a conference of this kind in order to rally Empire opinion to his support.

India's Participation

The exact agenda of the conference is by no means settled at the present time. And it is likely that a final decision on the question will not be taken until Mr. Chamberlain has met the French Premier and discussed the future of Anglo-French policy with him. It is expected that during his forthcoming visit to Paris, Mr. Chamberlain will go over the whole ground of foreign policy with M. Daladier and map out their plans for the coming months. The Colonial question will of course figure prominently in these discussions and it is only when agreement has been reached between the French and the British Governments on these wide issues that any definite announcement with regard to the date and objects of the Imperial Conference is expected to be made. The fact that another Imperial Conference is imminent has raised speculation once more on the question of India's political future. It is well-known that the Government is fully aware of the criticism that have been directed against its foreign policy by various leading Indians. And the attitude of the Congress in general with regard to war has caused some little disturbance in the ruling circles of the British Empire. It is not yet clear whether there is a likelihood of a full participation of India at the forthcoming conference and whether the Indian delegation would be only nominally Indian, as on previous occasions, or whether it will be constituted in such a way as to be truly representative of Indian opinion. In any case the chances are that the Conference will offer Mr Chamberlain another opportunity to settle the Indian problem in the light of the changed circumstances of to-day.

Col. Muirhead's Visit

Col. Muirhead who is at present in India will doubtless give the Prime Minister an account of his experiences and his impressions of the state of public opinion in India, on his return to London. And Mr. Chamberlain who has already demonstrated his complete indifference to criticism even from within his own party could carry through any changes in the Government's policy with regard to India that he considers expedient, regardless of die-hard opposition. Besides there is no question that the Empire faces serious dangers in the immediate future and cannot afford to preserve any remediable source of internal weakness. The support of India in war is indispensable to the British Empire and it is highly probable that Mr. Chamberlain would wish to go a long way to ensure that that support is not wanting. The Imperial Conference which is likely to be utilised for this purpose, among others, will also go into the question of Colonies and the Mandates held by Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

The Dominion Governments may be required either to consent to the modification of the present colonial arrangements or to consider on a new basis problems relating to Empire defence and questions of Imperial strategy as they would arise after the Colonial demands of Germany have been satisfied.

Problem of Indian States

One of the major obstacles to the speedy inauguration of the Federal scheme in India is generally recognised here to be the attitude of the Indian States. Recent political events in Mysore, Travancore and elsewhere as well as the coercive methods used by the rulers of the States have created a very deep impression and spread some anxiety in official circles. It is being realised that the misgovernment and repression that prevail in the States cannot any more be concealed and that the more the public knows of what is going on the more difficult it will become for the British Raj to continue to appear as the ally of the Princes. It is also felt that the disturbances in the States if al-

LONDON LETTER

Palestine Problem And Big Business

From Our Own Correspondent

LONDON: November 11.

The defeat of the National Government in the Dartford by-election was an important factor in international as well as domestic politics of this country. The size of the Labour victory has surprised most people, and the supporters of the Chamberlain policy are trying to explain it in various ways. The remarkable thing about this by-election is that the percentage of poll is just up to the General Election figure of 1935 in the constituency. In most by-elections the total vote slumps severely. At Dartford, with 23,000 extra electors, there were 15,000 extra voters. The Government candidate, Mr. Mitchell, got 4,000 more votes and Mrs. Adamson, the victor, got 11,000 extra. As the Conservatives fought the election as a vote of thanks to the Prime Minister, and it is generally agreed that Munich and its consequences stimulated political interest more than anything else, it may be inferred that the extra interest is roughly three to one against Mr Chamberlain.

The recent verdict at Oxford proved that the vast majority of women voters were solidly behind Mr. Chamberlain. It is also undoubtedly true that a few days ago, Labour was not in the least confident of winning Dartford and largely because of this same women's votes.

Does the defeat of the Government at Dartford mean that the simple reaction of relief and gratitude to Mr. Chamberlain for having averted war at Munich, has worn off? If this is so, Labour should score heavily in the four by-elections which are yet to come. Just now the tide appears to be running against the Government and in the coming by-elections Chamberlain is not going to do too well.

Hitler Responsible

One of Chamberlain's recent supporters in his foreign policy has been Lord Beaverbrook. He attributes the defeat of the Government to the conduct of Hitler. Commenting on Dartford result his paper tells us that Hitler with his speeches attacking this country and with his pogroms, is damaging Chamberlain to a degree, and the Government is losing ground on account of it. It has, therefore, advocated further improvement in the propaganda machinery of the Government. On the other hand, advocates of an alliance of all progressive forces, are convinced that Labour will not triumph very much until there is boldness in its leadership. They have suggested that Mr. Attlee should, therefore, retire and make room for Mr. Herbert Morrison as the leader of the Party. And when Mr. Morrison succeeds Mr. Attlee, the leadership of the London County Council, which Mr. Morrison has conducted with great disdinction should be transferred to Mr. Arthur Greenwood, the present deputy of Mr. Attlee.

Palestine Problem

We had believed in this country that the failure of the Indian Round Table Conferences would not be lost as an object-lesson by the Imperialist politicians in deciding the affairs of the Colonies or other far away countries under their administration. Yet we have been promised one more Round Table Conference in the next few weeks. The publication of the Woodhead Commission's Report on Palestine and the British statement of policy, if it contains any policy or plan, have given rise to severe comment in the country. Confronted with the mass of facts and figures collected by the Commission, the British Government has been forced to abandon the scheme for the partition of Palestine, which it had accepted and commended to Parliament on the recommendation of its earlier Commission—the Peel Commission. But it is obvious that all these facts and figures must have been available to the Peel Commission. The result of the Goverment's acceptance of the Peel Commission's recommendations has been months of bloodshed and misery to Jew and Arab alike. Only after vast sections of the Arab people had taken up arms against the Partition have the facts been admitted.

Just as the Simon Commission failed in its mission in India; the Peel Commission and the Woodhead Commission have failed to find any solution of the Palestine problem. So as in 1930, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald conceived of and toyed with the idea of a Round Table Conference his son, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, the Colonial Secretary, has taken to it on the same lines as those adopted by his late father. The forthcoming conference is to be attended by Arabs and Jews but those representatives of the Arab people who took up arms to defend their homes and rights, are to be excluded from the conference. The Jewish representatives will similarly be handpicked to suit Britain's convenience. Naturally the first reactions to the conference plan are not happy for the Government. The Government's reservation of the right to rule out the presence of certain Arab leaders has surprised even the Jews, who express astonishment that representatives of Arabs in Palestine itself who know its needs and conditions are not invited whereas an invitation is being extended to representatives of other Arab countries, which have their own aims to attain. Even one of the Conservative papers has reminded the Government that Britain has often, in her imperial experiences had to choose between negotiating with the "moderates" who agitated against her rule and the extremists who fought it. The bargains that were struck with the gunmen have not been the

DUTY OF DEMOCRATS.

The Spanish Civil War is dragging along with results slightly in favour of the rebels. What is noteworthy is that the rebels have yet scored no victory which could be regarded as decisive. A review, by no means prejudicial to them, of the protracted fight on the Ebro Front admits the position to be one almost of a stalemate. This review is significant in so far as it shows the failure of General Franco's superior mechanical resources, including aeroplanes, to make themselves felt in any effective manner. The real fight is between the Armies. If this is so Republican Spain can yet win the war for her Army is superior to General Franco's. But the main condition of success is that the population should not be starved for food. It is in connection with food supply that democrats all the world over owe an urgent duty to Republican Spain.

REGRETTABLE MOVE.

There is one passage in Mr. Chamberlain's speech which we particularly welcome. "Palestine", he said, "was a small country and could in no case provide a solution of the Jewish refugee problem." We wish Jews realised this. But there is at least one section among World Jewry which simply refuses to do so. In this connection we cannot but note with regret the move to secure permission from the British Government for finding homes in Palestine for 10,000 German children the cost for which would be borne by the Zionists of Palestine and the rest of the world (our italics). We regret it because it appears to be a strategic move in connection with the general issue between the Jews and Arabs of Palestine. It is not right that the miseries of Jews of Germany should be exploited for Zionist purposes.

TIMELY WARNING

In a speech at Leceister on Monday, Mr. Anthony Eden indulged in some refreshing frankness. "To, attempt," he declared, "any negotiations with Germany in the conditions prevailing to-day would be to court not only failure but humiliation." This is an undeniable truth because it is based on another undeniable truth to which he referred when he said: "All progress in international affairs depended on the respect for pledged word. The world was suffering to-day from a surfeit of broken pledges." On the eve of Mr. Chamberlain's visit these are timely observations and very relevant too. But in spite of the fact that Mr. Chamberlain is not, according to Press reports, accompanied by his pro-German genius, Sir Horace Wilson, it is too much to expect him to respect truth to the prejudice of "appeasement."

A LIBERAL'S GROUSE

It was a poor defence of Liberalism that Sir Chimanlal Setalvad made out in his talk on Monday evening at the Nagpada Neighbourhood House. He railed at the Congress far more than he defended his own party. His claim that the Liberals carry on the traditions of the Congress of two decades ago only means that, while the Congress and the country have moved with the times all these years, the Liberals have only stagnated. Sir Chimanlal has thus to admit that the Liberals have dwindled in number and he consoles himself with the hope, rather than a fact, that thousands of Indians without any political labels stand for a Liberal outlook and thought. Why do not even hundreds of these join the Liberal Party? Could it be that the Party itself does not practise the Liberalism it professes? It is puerile for Sir Chimanlal to claim that the "abondonment" of Civil Disobedience by the Congress is a vindication of the Liberals. The Congress has only suspended Civil Disobedience, as it did on several occasions before only to resume it when there was need for it. Moreover, all Congressmen believe in the efficacy of Civil Disobedience and many of them are even now practising it in several States with incalculable advantage to the States concerned as also to the country.

WANTED MORE MEDICAL SCHOOLS.

The munificent donation of three and a half lakhs of rupees by a Bombay philanthropist for the establishment of Ayurvedic schools is among the first welcome fruits of the legislation recognising indigenous systems of medicine. We trust there will be more such donations for both Ayurvedic and Unani systems because without such contributions Government, in their present financial stringency, may not be able to do much for medical schools of any description. Private donations are particularly necessary for well-equipped Homoeopathic institutions as else Homoeopathy may not receive sufficient recognition in the province. Fortunately, there is already in the city the Bombay Homoeopathic medical college established in 1919 and conducted by the Bombay Homoeopathic Medical Association If this college and the Charitable Dispensary attached to it for clinical work are generously aided by the public, that will help much both to ensure adequate State recognition for Homoeopathy in the province and also to extend medical relief in rural areas. For Homoeopathy is both cheap and scientific and without its help it will be extremely difficult to carry medical relief to the rural areas to any adequate extent.

Colonies As Home For Jewish Refugees

Govt. Accept Opposition Motion

LONDON, Nov. 21.

An outspoken attack on the Anti-Jewish policy of the German Government made by Mr. Noel Baker in the House of Commons moving the resolution noting with concern the deplorable treatment of certain racial, religious and political minorities in Europe and requesting an immediate concerted effort among nations, including the United States, to secure a common policy to deal with the refugees.

Mr. Baker recited a list of revolting details of anti-semitic incidents in Germany which he asserted, he could guarantee as true. He declared that all attacks he had cited were organised in advance and he claimed that the events were not a spontaneous indignation of the people but a consummation or perhaps a penultimate stage of a long-term plan whose spirit and purpose were plain.

Mr. Baker said that long, drastic measures against the Jews were not now supported by the German people, while it was no crime of disloyalty or treason which had brought this fate on the Jews and had shown a self-restraint in Germany, as in Palestine, which was almost superhuman.

Replying on the debate Sir Samuel Hoare announced that Government had accepted Mr. Baker's motion. He opposed interference in the affairs of other powers, but anti-Jewish measures in Germany would force them on the attention of other countries.

Sir Samuel Hoare added: "However deep our sympathies, this problem must be international. Whilst we are perfectly prepared to take full share in solving or mitigating the problem, it is a problem for all the thirty-two countries who are at present members of the Evian Committee."

Active enquiries had been made among those States and Sir Samuel Hoare hoped that steps would be taken in immediate future when the Committee meets in ten days time.

He said it was because he was anxious to see a complete and permanent settlement of the questions dividing Britain and Germany that he had frankly and unhesitatingly stated his views. "How can a question remain exclusively domestic when it involves scores of thousands of men, women and children, destitute and seeking admission into other countries," Sir Samuel Hoare asked amid cheers.

Mr. Myron Taylor, he said, who is leaving the United States to attend the forthcoming meeting of the International Committee in London, will be able to consult Earl Winterton and other representatives as regards immediate steps.

Sir Samuel thought that each of the dominions Governments was giving very urgent attention to the question and a substantial number of refugees had already been admitted into one or other of the dominions territories.

A greater part of the British Empire territories could only be settled after a careful survey and cautious preparation, with the best of will in the world some time would possibly elapse before substantial numbers could satisfactorily be settled in the colonies and dependancies. British Government were taking active steps to expedite survey.

Mr. Noel Baker referred to an article on November 3 in a German newspaper stating "out of the hoarded wealth of Jews we must compensate ourselves for economic damage done to us by the world Jewry". Mr. Baker believed herein lay a clue to the real character of the recent events in Germany.

The treatment of minorities is a moral concern of all nations, while there is an international question of a more material kind. We have got to keep these unhappy beings when Dr. Goebbels drives them out. If Dr. Goebbels completes his programme and Poland and Rumania join what are we going to do? Outside world must formulate an immediate programme, firstly, some action designed to check the persecution and expulsion of new hordes of penniless refugees, secondly, make clear to Berlin that cordial relations between the German Government and the British people are impossible while martyrdom continues, thirdly if foreign exiles continue to be thrust upon us we may be driven to seek measures whereby we can find room.

"Dr. Goebbels has said that he hoped the outside world will soon forget the German Jews. He hopes in vain. His campaign against them will go down in history as St. Bartholomew night. Let there also go down the memory of what other nations did to wipe the shame away."

The Conservative member Mr. Hammersley thought that the British Empire which was responsible for one-quarter surface of the globe was in a position materially to help the settlement of refugees.

The Liberal Mr. Mander believed that if the British Empire took one quarter and the United States another quarter, South America and other countries might be willing to absorb the rest.

The problem was not insoluble but it was not soluble without international effort for co-operating actively with an effective organisation.

"We accept the responsibility that arises from the fact that we possess a great part of the surface of the world and owing to our wealth and other resources we can play an important part in any attempt to deal with the tragic problem."

Sir Samuel Hoare said that Mr. Chamberlain in the afternoon said nothing about the dominions because they were members of the Evian conference. They must speak for themselves. Their representatives will attend the London deliberations.

He said: "Rightly or wrongly there is an underlying current of suspicion in Britain about big scale immigration. Below surface there is making of a definite anti-Jewish movement. As Home Secretary I will do my best to stamp out evils of that kind." Whilst a few, if any, members looked upon this problem differently from himself they had to avoid anything like mass immigration which might lead to a growth of the movement which all wanted to see suppressed.

The foreign office had established offices in Berlin and Vienna to issue visas which they were issuing upto seventy daily. He did not intend limiting the number of people he was going to admit and would look favourably on proposals regarding refugees requiring temporary homes, as for example, for an intensive training settlement in the colonies.—

Noel Baker's motion in the Commons was carried unanimously after Sir Samuel Hoare had emphasised that Britain was prepared to do her utmost to assist the refugees and 'inter alia' would accept very large numbers of refugee children and also other immigrants for intensive training for them to go to less populated countries including the British Empire. —Reuter.

NO RESPECT FOR PLEDGES

To Negotiate With Germany Is To Court Humiliation, Says Eden

LONDON, Nov. 22.

To attempt any negotiations with Germany in the conditions prevailing to-day would be to court not only failure but humiliation, declared Mr. Anthony Eden in a speech at Leicester.

He said it was unthinkable that Britain should even contemplate discussions which might involve, however remotely, the transfer of native populations without having regard to conditions under which such populations would have to live.

Concessions that might have been at least discussable in some conditions became inconceivable in others.

All progress in international affairs depended on respect for pledged world. The world was suffering to-day from a surfeit of broken pledges.—Reuter.

LONDON, Nov. 22.

In the House of Commons having evoked cheers by the statement that Britain was prepared to provide facilities for the entry into Britain of large numbers of refugee children who were sponsored by responsible bodies and individuals, Sir Samuel Hoare said, "Holland is prepared to give a temporary refuge to children and other transmigrants, provided there is a hope of our receiving them in Britain. I can give an assurance to Dr. Colijn that we shall not put obstacles in the way of children coming here.

The question of a still greater effort like an international loan can only be dealt with internationally. We are prepared to take a full part with others."

JEWISH BUSINESSES IN BERLIN

Efforts of the world-be buyers of Jewish businesses in Berlin to raise the necessary capital by selling stocks and shares have hitherto proved largely unsuccessful, as the investors are not inclined to take up the comparatively large amounts thrown on the market and the new German State loan of 1,500 million marks is apparently absorbing the interest of capitalist investors.—Reuter.

The "Le Matin" foreshadows the transformation of the Rumanian Legations in London and Paris into Embassies within a week.

SUBHAS BOSE DEFENDS SARDAR PATEL

Haripura Resolution Does Not Clash With Interests Of States People

LUCKNOW: NOV. 22.

"THE HARIPURA RESOLUTION, AS I UNDERSTAND IT, HAS TWO ASPECTS: FIRSTLY, THE CONGRESS EXTENDS FULL SYMPATHY TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATES IN THEIR STRUGGLE FOR SELF-GOVERNMENT AND CIVIL LIBERTY: SECONDLY, THE PEOPLE OF THE STATES SHOULD ENDEAVOUR TO STAND ON THEIR OWN LEGS INSTEAD OF TRYING TO USE THE NAME OF THE CONGRESS."

Thus observed Sjt. Subhas Chandra Bose, Congress President, in an interview to the Press regarding the Congress attitude towards the States vis-a-vis the Haripura Resolution.

Haripura Resolution

"Whatever view we may hold regarding the merits of that resolution," Mr. Bose adds, there is no doubt that after the Haripura Congress, people of the States have shown greater reliance than in the past. My view is that the Congress is bound to take deeper interest and pursue more active policy in the affairs of the Indian States. That is why when I met representatives of the States' people's movement in Bombay after the Haripura Congress, I requested them not to quarrel over the language of the Haripura resolution but get along organising peoples of the States. I believe my anticipation has been fulfilled since there is no doubt that to-day there is a greater interest in the affairs of the States' people in the highest ranks of the Congress. The more the reactionary Princes and Governments come to be, the closer will the peoples of the States be drawn to the people of the British India. We should take for granted that the British Government will try their best to come to some arrangements with the States with a view to inaugurating Federation in the Centre. On this assumption we in British India should prepare our plan and decide our tactics in future.

SPIRITED DEFENCE OF SARDAR'S ATTITUDE

Making a spirited defence of the attitude of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel towards the Rajkot State, Mr. Bose said:—

"I do not see anything which militates against the Haripura resolution and at the time when the resolution was adopted. We were clear in our minds that, in spite of the contents of the resolution, individual Congressmen could participate in the struggle of the States' people. If Sardar Patel feels the call of the subjects of Rajkot, he has full liberty to participate in their struggle Should he do so, my whole-hearted sympathy will be with him and with all fighters on his side. I should make clear in this connection that our sympathy is with the States people all over India from Kashmere to Travancore."

U. P. TENANCY BILL.

Asked about the arbitration of the Congress High Command in the U. P. Tenancy Bill, and whether any Kisan representation would be heard in this matter, the Congress President said:—

"I could only outline the general attitude of the Congress Working Committee when such issues arise. Ordinarily, the legislative programme of a particular province is tackled by the Congress Ministry and the Congress Assembly Party. If there was any deviation in the principle or policy of the Congress on the part of the Ministry or the Congress Assembly Party, the Working Committee or the Parliamentary Sub-Committee will be justified to intervene. On the other hand, when a Congress Ministry or the Congress Assembly Party feels confident to deal with a particular situation, the Working Committee or the Parliamentary Sub-Committee would feel reluctant to interfere unless both the parties in the particular dispute or all parties concerned desire to seek assistance or advice from the Parliamentary Sub-Committee."—United Press.

SAMPURNANAND'S PARTY TO BOSE

LUCKNOW, Nov. 22.

The Hon. Mr. Sampurnanand, the Education Minister, gave a tea party this morning in honour of the Congress President. A large number of prominent persons were present.

Discussions at the party turned to national planning on a country-wide scale. Mr. Bose dealt briefly with the fundamentals of the scheme-to-be and enunciated the various aspects that stood out in that connection.

Emphasizing the importance of the connection between industry and agriculture in India, he said that, planning of agriculture should proceed side by side with that of industrial planning in order that proper balance of economy might be achieved.

In the course of discussions, the place of small-scale industries as complementing and supplementing the big industries was sought to be defined.

Prof. Radhakamal Mukherji pointed out the necessity of controlling the rate of population. Mr Sampurnanand considered that the population problem could only be tackled by large-scale comprehensive measures.—United Press.

World Achievement.

Domestic Science

When we speak of domestic science we are usually thinking of the school subject learnt by girls from 11 to 15. But the phrase is used here to remind us that there has been a wonderful revolution in the mentality of scientists in the last few years.

The old conception of the scientists was, you may remember, pretty much like that of our idea of a professor—a man apart from the daily routine, a student with his head in the clouds. To-day the scientist is an eminently practical man. You find him not only studying the stars in their courses and weighing light, but trying to find out the best way of making bread.

Only a year or two ago, the millers of the world turned to the men of science and said: HOW IS IT THAT SOME FLOURS MAKE BETTER BREAD THAN OTHERS?

The scientists were not offended. They did not say the question of bread was beneath them. They buckled to and tried to find the answer, and they discovered, among other things, that there was not only a chemical reason, there was also a physical one—that some cells of dough have a better stretching power than others.

To-day science is thoroughly domesticated. It will come down from the stars to consider the problem of shrinking woollen undies. It is not the merely practical man (or the practical woman), who is interested in this problem—it is also the scientist who minutely examines and carefully experiments, all in the hope of producing a wool which will not shrink in the laundry.

All this is a world achievement of tremendous importance—far greater importance than some of us realise. It is wonderful that the scientist in his laboratory should be interested in the correct way of storing Cox's orange pippins, in probing the mystery of why a table jelly sets, in investigating the problem of sound for the flat-dweller. It means he is enriching life.

Why Not Englishmen Follow Mahatma's Example?

INCOME-TAX BILL IN CENTRAL ASSEMBLY

Sir Homi's Speech Keeps House In Good Humour

NEW DELHI, Nov. 22.

The pre-lunch sitting of the Assembly to-day, the fourth day of the General Debate on the Income-tax Bill, was notable for a racy and thrustful speech by Sir H. P. Mody who with a series of quips and sallies kept the House in boisterous good humour.

Income-tax payers, he said, could be divided into three categories, the dishonest, the not quite honest, and fools. (Laughter).

Fools were those who declared their full income and paid up without a murmur. (Renewed laughter). The Bill was calculated to sharpen the wits of the dishonest and worsen the lot of the honest. It was based on a reversal of the well-known principle of jurisprudence and seemed to assume that it is better that a hundred innocent men should be condemned than that one guilty man should escape. He agreed with the description of the Bill as one intended to improve morals rather than to improve the revenues. He referred to the complexity of the Income-tax Law and said, nobody outside the Board of Revenue understood it and the only other man in the United Kingdom who understood it was recently sent to a mental home (Laughter).

HALF-HEARTED JUSTICE.

Sir H. P. Mody, proceeded to refer to some of the salient features of the Bill, of which he said he was not unmindful. For instance, the provision for carry-forward of losses was one that did justice to traders but only half-hearted justice. If profits were to be taxed irrespective of losses made in a subsequent year or in another department of a firm, then it amounted to a capital levy. He agreed with the "soak the rich" principle that it was claimed was embodied in the slab system.

SLAB SYSTEM.

The Finance Member, continued Sir H. P. Mody, had made full of telegrams received from certain associations urging him to resist the Government proposal. But the authors of those telegrams were now very far wrong. For, what did the Select Committees say? They said: "The Bill proceeds on the assumption that the 'slab' system of rates of tax will be adopted. We are of opinion that this system is definitely preferable to the present 'step' system but we wish to reserve our right to criticise any particular application of it which may be included in the annual finance bill." That report was signed by P. J. Grigg. (Laughter). "I hope," said Sir H. P. Mody, "when the application of the slab system is made in the Finance Bill to be brought by the Finance Member in March next, P. J. Grigg will criticise it" (Loud Laughter).

WHY TAX FOREIGN INCOME?

Sir H. P. Mody dealt with irrevocable trusts and asserted, it was wrong-to-tax the income in the hands of the donor. Nor was it right to tax foreign income. The Government of India, after all, did very little to promote Indian trade abroad. The obligation laid upon the tax-payer to submit returns of income was another provision to which he objected. Why should the tax-payer do the work of the income-tax department? This would, in the words of a Revenue Commissioner in India, widen the scope of departmental corruption and departmental inefficiency. He associated himself with the European Group's plea for sympathy from income-tax officers. Sympathy was necessary in the administration of Income-tax Law which was so complex.

TAX ON AGRICULTURAL INCOME.

Earlier in the sitting, Sir Yamin Khan concluded his unfinished speech. He replied to a number of arguments made against the Bill.

Referring to the taxing of Agricultural income derived from Burma for instance, he asked how could anyone object to this when Congress Governments were taxing agricultural incomes in India? Was the objection taken only because the tax went to the Central Government and not the Congress Government?

Mr. Gadgil agreed that all those with taxable incomes must pay up what was expected under this bill because he felt it to be one of the obligations attendant on citizenship. The Bill, he admitted, was brought with a view to perfect the machinery for collecting income-tax. He referred to the Income-tax Report and returns that were made annually by the Central Board of Revenue and the amounts that would have been lost to the Government annually, if the voluntary returns made by assessees were accepted without question. He, therefore, was conscious of the need for perfecting this machinery. But what he objected to was the provision for compulsory returns.

He was also in agreement with the clause for taxing foreign incomes but he was strongly opposed to the provision distinguishing between domiciles and non-domiciles. He wanted Double Tax relief to be deleted, on the ground that needs of the State transcended all contracts. How many countries, he asked in this connection, have entered into such reciprocal agreements.

MAHATMA'S EXAMPLE.

He calculated that the Indian treasury would benefit to the tune of nearly three crores in the Double Tax Relief and the exemptions provided under Clause 60 were removed along with other charges that were being taken out. Even if the figure was not three crores, he saw no reason why India should lose this amount irrespective of what it might be. He wanted every farthing earned in India to be taxed and spent well in India. He suggested that Englishman in India might follow Mahatma Gandhi's example when he left South Africa. The Mahatma, he pointed out when leaving South Africa had barely the passage expenses for himself and his wife in addition to a pound a piece. The Englishman he said had taken crores and crores out of India and yet he was not satisfied. He was agreeable to a lowering of the taxable limit to Rs. 1000 provided allowances were made for children as in England.

OBJECTIONABLE METHODS.

Mr. B. N. Bajoria said the Bill was an expression of the Finance Member's desire to get as much money for the State as possible. (The Finance Member: hear hear) He had no quarrel with the Finance Member in that desire but he was employing methods which were most objectionable. The Finance Member seemed to have no consideration to the capacity of the already overtaxed taxpayer in this country. It looked like a process of getting milk by the process of 'Phooka' which had been made illegal (laughter). The Bill assumed that every tax-payer was a tax-dodger and every officer of the Income-tax Department a paragon of honesty, integrity, sweet reasonableness, courtesy and there was no harm in giving him every imaginable power.

He took particular exception to the provision for taxing of Joint Hindu families by a method which, he calculated, would result in extracting from them three or four times what was legitimately due from them if the members of the family were separately taxed.

APPELLATE TRIBUNAL.

Mr. Town (European Group) strongly objected to a number of provisions. First as regards the setting up of the independent appellate tribunal to hear appeals from decisions of the Appellate Assistant Commissioners, the Select Committee had agreed that the appointment of the Tribunal might be postponed for a period not exceeding two years to avoid the possibility of undue dislocation. Mr. Town declared that there was little reason why it should not be set up quickly and be working within 12 months.

Referring to tax-dodging, he said that the big tax-dodger was very easy fish to catch but what about the bazar trader whose income was just above the taxable limit and dozens and dozens of whom concealed it and boasted about it? He defended the provision giving right of entry to income-tax officers.

Mr. Town asked for a provision to protect from taxation the unfortunate person who never drew his salary. In conclusion, Mr Town deprecated what he described as an attempt to turn business houses into Governmental clerks of the Income-Tax Department.

TAXING OF SURPLUS INCOME.

Pandit K. K. Malaviya brought to the notice of the House that the Bill completely overlooked an important aspect found in the English Law, namely, taxing of surplus income, or in other words income over and above what was necessary for the essential comforts of the assessee.

In England, he pointed out, one fifth of the income not exceeding £300 was not taxable. Over and above this, there were the married-man's allowance, the single-man's allowance, allowances for children and for dependents. These allowances, therefore, mitigated the incidence of taxation in England, helped in raising the standard of living and provided for the better maintenance and education of children.

CRIPPLING FOREIGN TRADE.

He criticised the basis on which foreign income was proposed to be taxed. In England where a good portion of the income was derived from foreign countries and foreign trade, the remittance basis was followed. Why should it not also be, he asked, the policy for a poor country like India. There was, he asserted neither logic nor reason behind this provision. Was the idea, he asked, to cripple India's foreign trade.

He failed to understand how the Finance Member could muster up courage to take from Indian traders abroad what he proposed to give foreign traders in India.

He had not concluded when the House adjourned till to-morrow. —A.P.

FIRST PRIZE FOR 'GARBA' DANCE

The Garba Dance by the girls of Chanda Ramji Girls' High School, which secured the first prize, was considered to be an exquisite interplay of light and colour and graceful movement.

Miss Yodh displayed remarkable talent in her portrayal of the dance of Spring when Nature quickens into a fresh life. She was awarded the second prize.

HAWAII CARES FOR INDIAN CULTURE

Prof. Sinclair's Scheme For His University

That the new renaissance of America was going to come from Japan, China and India was the view expressed by Prof. Gregg M. Sinclair, Director of the Oriental Institute, University of Hawaii Honolulu, in the course of a lecture he gave at the K. R. Cama Oriental Institute on Tuesday evening.

Prof. Sinclair is touring India with a view to meet leading scholars and professors and obtain their help and suggestions in organising an Indian section of the Oriental Institute in the Hawaii University.

The lecture was illustrated by lantern-slides depicting the beauty and charm of Hawaii.

Mr. V. K. Vaidya presided.

The professor traced the history of Honolulu since its discovery by captain Cook in 1778. He spoke of the reign of the great King Kamehamena who in 1819 abolished the polynesian religion which merely consisted of a number of taboos administered by the "Kakuna' or the priests. He narrated how Hawaii came under the influence of American missionaries, how the language was put into the alphabet, how the last dependent of Kamehamena was deposed in 1893, how Hawaii was an independant state for a brief period of five years and then came under the American Government.

RACIAL PARADISE

Proceeding the lecturer pointed out that Hawaii was a racial paradise. Out of a population of 00,000, there were 150 thousand people of Japanese origin, 65 thousand of Philippino descent, 25 thousand Chinese, 30 thousand Hawaiins and so on. Hawaii was the best place to study the science of racial mixtures. The world had much to learn from Hawaii. There had never been a racial riot in Hawaii and the people were all living in perfect peace.

The speaker believed that a new world culture was going to come from the orient and they wanted to bring the culture and philosophy of India to the focus of America.

QUEST OF INDIAN CULTURE

He thought that abysmal ignorance prevailed about Indian philosophy and culture in America. A number of yogis had settled in America and merely deprived rich women of money by teaching them some exercises without imparting any genuine knowledge of philosophy. Americans did not want to be judged by Randolph Hearst and Al Capone but by men like Ralph Waldo Emerson and Abraham Lincoln. Similarly India should be judged by its best men.

He had a scheme according to which three scholars each from Japan, China and India should go over to Hawaii for three weeks during summer and hold discussions with about 20 professors from American Universities. Dr. Sir Radha-Krishnan had promised to come if possible and the speaker was going to ask Prof. Das Gupta. He hoped that these talks would enlarge the vision of the American professors and help them to an appreciation of Indian culture.

Need For A. I. S. A. Depot In Matunga

The Organiser of the Khadi Sales Depot, Matunga, writes:—

The absence of a properly equipped and full-fledged Khadi Sales Depot under the auspices of the All India Spinners' Association has been long felt in this cosmopolitan and ever-growing colony of Matunga.

This Khadi Sales Depot was started on the 6th of April, 1938, beginning with the National Week. Keeping the Depot open only for a limited numoer of hours of the day with the object of popularising genuine Khadi certified by the A. I. S. A.

The opening ceremony was performed by the Hon. Mr. K. M. Munsni on the 9th April, 1938.

The total sales of Khadi for the period of 7 months that this Khadi Sales Depot has been in existence show an aggregate amount of Rs. 3,693-8-6 with a monthly average sale of Rs. 527-10-4.

From the above figures it is evident and it is sincerely hoped that at least the sales will increase by a minimum of 50 per cent when a full-timed Khadi Sales Depot with all the varieties is established.

After 3 months of the starting of this Khadi Sales Depot, at the instance of the Navjeevan Sangh, village products such as hand-pounded rice, wheat-flour, Kashmir honey and foot-wears, etc., are being stocked and sold here.

T. U. C. CHIEF'S APPEAL

Do Not Widen Breach With Congress: Call For Close Co-operation

A reception was accorded to Dr. Suresh Chandra Bannerjee, the President of the A.I.T.U.C. by the B.P.T.U.C. at Damodar Thackersey Hall on Tuesday evening. Mr Jamnadas Mehta presided on the occasion.

Messrs Dange, Ashoxe Mehta, Ranadive, and Nimbkar made speeches welcoming the T.U.C Chief and appreciating his efforts to oridge the breach between the Congress Ministry and the B.P T.U.C. that has come off in Bombay as a result of the former's sponsoring the Trades Disputes Bill. It was stated that the one day strike on Nov. 7th was staged in Bombay Presidency as a demonstration of labour's solid opposition to the Ministry's move. The demonstration was not to be construed as anti-Congress in nature. Besides the President was assured that Bombay workers would be in the forefront of any anti-imperialist fight.

Dr. Bannerjee expressed his gratefulness for the welcome he was accorded by the Bombay workers. He said that their quarrel should be not against the Congress which was the foremost anti-imperialist body in the country, but against the leadership with whose actions they might not agree.

In case they made up their minds they could enter and change the Congress of its present colour.

He appealed to his Bombay brethren that nothing should be done to widen the breach that already existed then. Congress had been built up with their blood and it should not be weakened. Prior to the formation of the T.U.C workers were with the Congress, but later an differences arose. The workers and peasants of India wanted a government of their own, which would look after their interests.

TRADE DISPUTES BILL.

Referring to the Trade Disputes Bill he said that it needed many improvements. He was making efforts for a conference of workers's representatives with the Congress and in furtherance of it he had met the leaders concerned. He would be meeting Mahatmaji again and would acquaint him of the situation.

In case he succeeded, they could work for a settlement of the differences, but in case of failure, they would fight out the issue. Any attempt to introduce similar Bills elsewhere in India would be fraught with disastrous consequences.

He once again appealed that the 'breach' should not be widened and said any fight between Congress and labour should be as between a father and son Labour should not be anti-Congress.

A SHORT STORY

Fame For Felix

BY RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

When Felix Plumb saw the man preparing to commit suicide by leaping from the fifth storey of the Stewart hotel a sudden exultant thought flashed across his mind. Felix was, to say the least, an insignificant character. Stunted in growth and, unhappily, stunted in intelligence, he had, like many small, unimportant men, a secret, passionate craving for fame. He imagined himself as a hero, imagined his picture on the front of every newspaper in the country, imagined his name on every lip. And because, at infrequent intervals he knew that this condition never would exist, the craving had reached prodigious proportions.

Now, like a bolt from the blue, the door of opportunity had swung open.

"Suicide!" he shrieked dramatically, pointing toward the man who was perched on a ledge five storeys above the street, "Stand back everyone! Suicide! Stand clear!"

A startled, gaping crowd gathered as though by magic, and while they were gathering, Felix bounded through the door of the hotel. "Suicide!" he bellowed. "Man going to jump from the fifth storey of this hotel!"

The effect of his words couldn't have produced more satisfactory results. People in the lobby jumped to their feet. Some rushed outside. Some gathered around the little man and asked foolish questions. Inwardly Felix thrilled. To-night every newspaper in the city would publish his picture on the front page as the man who had first observed the suicide.

A sandy-haired gentleman with spectacles grasped Felix by the arm, "What's that you say? Are you sure? I'm the assistant manager. Dear me, this is terrible! Where can Mr. Jones be?"

Felix knew opportunity when he saw it. "Come on," he yelled, grabbing the sandy-haired man and leading him toward the elevators. "Maybe we can stop him!"

Half the people in the lobby tried to crowd into the elevator, but Felix pushed them back. He pushed the sandy-haired man in and got in himself. "Fifth floor and rush it!" he snapped importantly.

The corridor on the fifth floor was deserted. Felix, guessing at the location of the man, turned left, then right. There was an open window at the end of the hall. He rushed up to it and thrust out his head.

The man who planned to commit suicide hadn't jumped. He was standing on the lip of the ledge staring down at the mob that had formed in the street. His face were a scowl.

"Hey!" shouted Felix at the top of his lungs. "You can't do that! Come back here!"

The man on the ledge looked at him and scowled more darkly.

"What?" he yelled back. "Can't hear you. Wind's too strong."

"I'd better go get someone to crawl out and fetch him back," said the sandy-haired man.

"No, no, no!" shrieked Felix. "He'll jump sure then. Worst thing you could do." Suddenly he remembered having read of a similar incident and of the strategy that had been used. "Rush down stairs and get a cup of coffee and a sandwich," he directed the sandy-haired man. "Send someone for a sleeping powder and put it in the coffee."

The sandy-haired man nodded and ran back down the hall. Felix returned to the window. The thing to do now, he knew, was stall for time. My gosh! If he could only keep this man from jumping his name would be emblazoned on every paper in the country.

"Hey!" he yelled at the man, who was once more peering over the rim of the ledge. The man looked up "Nice day," Felix screamed. The man cupped his ear, and Felix repeated his shrieked commonplace.

"So what?" yelled back the suicide.

Felix grinned. "Quite a drop down to the street," he bellowed, trying to sound conversational.

"Five storeys," yelled the man.

Below a siren screamed. Then another and another. A patrol wagon, an ambulance and two fire trucks arrived simultaneously. Firemen scurried around like ants, dragging out a life net. News photographers pointed their cameras up at the ledge. Police kept the excited crowd away from the space below. Felix waved his hand encouragingly.

The sandy-haired man returned bearing a tray with a cup of coffee and two sandwiches. Five men were with him. Felix took the tray and ignored the men.

"Did you get the sleeping powder?"

The sandy-haired man nodded.

Felix thrust his head through the window, yelled at the man and offered him the tray. The man hesitated, then crept along the ledge, took the tray and said: "Thanks, pal." Felix watched with bated breath while the man at the sandwiches and drank the coffee. For a moment he thought the sleeping powders weren't going to work, then the suicide's head began to nod and presently he slumped forward. Not only slumped, but rolled. Rolled to the ledge's rim and disappeared over it. Felix almost swooned. . . .

When Felix reached the street he saw a crowd gathered around a fireman's net. The man was peacefully slumbering within its folds. An important looking man espied Felix and strode up to him.

"I'm the manager of that hotel," he thundered. "You idiot! I hired that steeplejack this morning to fix my eaves troughs on day work. This will cost me a fortune!"

That evening Felix's picture was in every paper in the city, and a few outside the city.

JAWAHAR BLESSES WARDHA SCHEME

WARDHAGANJ: Nov. 22.

Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, accompanied by Dr. Zakir Hussein and Mr. Aryanayakam, visited the Vidya Mandir Training School today. After inspecting a Guard of Honour, Pt. Nehru was shown round the Spinning and Cardboard Work classes. In the model Vidya Mandir, experimental teaching of boys was demonstrated, after which he questioned the students and teachers.

He also inspected the special training class of Madras and Orissa educationists, who are undergoing training in the Wardha Scheme, before introducing it in their Provinces.

NATIONAL WEALTH

Pt. Jawaharlal said: "I had read in papers about the Wardha scheme, while in Europe. To-day I have the privilege of seeing it working and I hope it will be popular and successful."

Appealing to the pupil teachers, he said: "You will be put in charge of the great national wealth, which you have to properly use and augment our resources—I mean the children whom you have to train up for service and sacrifice by your precept and example, which is bound to be followed by them, if you devote your life for it."—A.P.

lowed to increase and if they are to be met in the future by the same methods that have recently been exercised, will prove to be a constant element of unsettlement in India, and may be very far-reaching in its consequences. Every effort is therefore, being made to ensure that the Princes will observe at least the appearance of fair dealing in their relations with their subjects. I understand that the Viceroy who was in England at the time of Travancore incidents was profoundly disturbed by them. It is possible that the Government of India took no steps in the matter mainly because the acting head of the Indian Government was a Provincial Governor diffident of his powers to cope with the situation.

On his return to India Lord Linlithgow, I believe, has turned his attention to the Travancore affair as one of immediate questions to be looked into. The exact line of action that the Government of India can take in a situation of this kind cannot be predicted with any certainty. The British Agent in Travancore has been instructed to submit detailed reports on the shootings that took place in Travancore and I should not at all be surprised if Lord Linlithgow has sought expert legal advice as to the precise rights and duties of the Paramount Power in a matter of this kind.

THE PENTANGULAR

those unpleasant features, which marred last year's Carnival, have now passed away and the Tournament has now regained its old popularity. During the next few days the Cricket fans of Bombay, irrespective of their caste, creed, colour or nationality, will muster strong at the Brabourne Stadium and exhibit their love and enthusiasm for the game in diverse ways. For a time it was feared that owing to communal bickerings and wranglings, the tournament might be scrapped for good. But the overwhelming good sense of the communities concerned prevailed in the end and here we see them struggling for the honours of the fights in the best possible humour and spirit.

CANKER OF COMMUNALISM.

From what I have said above many people may imagine that I have been re-converted to the present form of the contests. Far from it. I am still as vehement an opponent of it as I ever was. The reason is that it goes against the spirit of nationalism. As a nation which is trying hard to kill the canker of communalism from its midst, it does not behove sportsmen to assist its existence and growth. Consequently a form of Zone Quadrangular was proposed by my friend, A. A. A. Fyzee, Honorary Secretary of the Bombay Cricket Association. Unfortunately the scheme has not received the attention and welcome it deserves at the hands of those who are ruling Bombay's Cricket to-day. However I am not at all pessimistic of the future. I am sure the day will dawn—much sooner than many people imagine—when the communal form of sport will be doomed for ever and in its place will rise a contest which will have a more alluring and abiding result—not only for Bombay but for the whole of India.

DECAY OF PARSI CRICKET.

I am sorry if I have diverted a little. But the cause is so important and urgent that it has to be propagated and advanced at every available opportunity. Now looking at the teams put up by the communities concerned it is difficult to say which is stronger and will emerge victorious from the fray. As we have already seen the Parsis have relied mainly on their local talents. Only three players have been invited from up country. It goes without saying that their field of selection is very meagre and narrow. If they had better talents to choose from, they would surely have pinned their faith in them. But alas, those glorious days of the Parsis are now gone! They are hard put to it to collect a respectable side. Those who are at the helm of their affairs are striving their utmost to produce the successors of a Pavri, a Kanga, a Warden and a host of others who have filled the pages of their cricket history in letter of gold. They have not yet succeeded in their efforts. But let us hope that the day is not far distant when they will be able to open a new chapter even more brilliant than the past.

EUROPEANS LOSE INTEREST.

The case of the Europeans is somewhat different in this respect. It is true they do not at the moment possess in their ranks players of the calibre Major J. J. Greig, Capt. K. O. Goldie, Frank Tarrant, G. L. Travers, A. L. Hosie and R. J. O. Meyers. Still they have sufficient material in the country to put up a fairly strong combination which may place their opponents in hot waters. But it seems to me that up-country players have lost most of their old attraction for this Tournament. In the Inter-Provincial Championship Tournament they now find an excellent outlet for the exhibition of their prowess. Gradually they wish it to take the place of the Pentangular. From a local competition it will embrace the whole of India. Be that as it may the fact remains that the Europeans have fielded practically a local side with only three players from outside. There is nothing in its composition which is likely to set Bombay a fire. The only interesting fact in it is that the fight will be more or less even, with both sides struggling hard for the right to meet the Mahomedans in the semi-finals.

A HAPPY AUGURY.

The second contest will be between the Hindus and the Rest. As I forecasted before the Hindus have practically put up the side which almost walks into it. The only exception is P. J. Chury in place of K. Bose. The local player has been batting so consistently well this season that it would have been rather unfair to ignore his claims. He is said to have improved his fielding also. There are two doubtful starters in the team, namely, Amarnath and Banerjee. The former is going to be tied in Wedlock early next month and the latter is unwell. If they cry off, the Hindus will not remain the strongest side on paper as it appeared at first. Still Major Nayudu will have sufficient material in his hands to dispose of the Rest without much ado. It must be a matter of extreme satisfaction to all that the long-standing dispute between certain players which marred the game of the Hindus—and even All-India—during the last few years has been made up now. It is earnestly hoped that it will remain to the lasting benefit of Indian Cricket.

PERSONAL TRIBUTE.

The Rest has not been able to field as strong a side as last year. The absence of F. C. de Saram, the Ceylon player, is particularly regretted by all. There are two Ceylon players in the team who may be expected to give a glowing account of themselves. Contrary to expectations A. S. de Mello has been selected Captain again for this year. It must be a tribute to his exertions for the inclusion of the Rest in the Pentangular rather than his leadership in the field! Let us hope that the Rest will fare much better than their strength on paper indicates.

KHER'S REPLY TO HUQ

Muslim Interests Safe In Provinces With Congress Govts.

CALCUTTA, Nov. 22.

A categorical denial that he has been "ruthlessly sacrificing Muslim interests at the altar of false nationalism" is made by the Hon. Mr. B. G. Kher, Premier, Bombay, in a letter to Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose with reference to the allegations recently made against the Congress Governments by Mr. A. K. Fazlul Huq, Chief Minister, Bengal.

In his letter Mr. Kher says:—"The statement that there will not be a single Muslim returned on a system of joint electorates unless Muslims subscribed most lavishly to Hindu ideas and aspirations is also incorrect, as the following instances will prove.

"The municipal elections in Bombay are held on a joint electorate basis and a number of Muslims get in without any difficulty. In the Borough Municipalities and District Local Boards the Muslims have at present separate electorates, but they have been given an option to demand joint electorates with reserved seats. Under the Village Panchayat Act there are joint electorates, but there are no reserved seats for Muslims and yet Muslims are able to mull their electoral weight. The Village Panchayat Amending Bill seeks to give Muslims reserved seats in joint electorates. I may add that there is not a single Municipality which has joint electorates but has not reserved seats for Muslims. We have just made a beginning by introducing an Optional Clause in the Municipal and Local Boards Acts but the optional clause has not yet been put into operation".—A. P.

WOMEN'S PLACE IN CIVICS

Better Fitted To Minister To Social Needs, Says Mrs. Munshi

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

"Women can render much better service than men as members of civic bodies because they are better fitted than men to look after matters like sanitation, medical relief and education of children" declared Mrs. Lilavati Munshi, in the course of an interview with a representative of the "Bombay Chronicle" to-day.

"I hope, in the near future," added Mrs. Munshi "many more women will come forward to contest Municipal elections. I also hope a time will soon come when women will be able to capture at least half the number of seats in civic bodies and make up for the neglect which these bodies have suffered in the past."

CONGRESSMEN'S WORK.

Referring to the work put in by the Congress members in the Bombay Municipal Corporation, Mrs. Lilavati said that though the Congress members were few in number, they were responsible for setting a high tone in civic matters. "There are many achievements to their credit" she added. "Their contribution is very substantial in the matter of effecting civic improvements such as slum clearance, ensuring of better sanitation in the city and paying greater attention to medical relief. They have supported many progressive schemes which are on the anvil to-day."

HER BILLS.

Referring to the two Bills introduced by her at the last session of the Legislature, one for the prevention of unequal marriages and the other for the prevention of bigamous marriages amongst Hindus, Mrs. Munshi said:—

"The Government is no doubt sympathetic towards my measures but what I feel is that the Government is concerned more with political programme than with the social. For my own part, I would urge the Government to attach equal importance to social legislation because social and political progress go hand in hand. What I would expect the Government to do is to take the initiative in sponsoring social legislation and when a private member of the legislature takes the earlier opportunity of introducing a social measure, to give all facility to ensure an early passage of that Bill. Otherwise there is no likelihood of the much needed reform being brought about in the near future."

Imamate Tangle Solved

Maulana Azad's Appeal Not To Mar Happiness Of Id Day

CALCUTTA, Nov 22.

Maulana Abul Kalam Azad has decided not to accept the Imamate on the occasion of Id this year on any condition and has issued a communication to the Muslims of the City informing them that "As the Calcutta Muslim League has offered an apology over the real question, I would accept it". He exhorts every Mussalman who had any regard for him to do nothing to mar the happiness of the Id day.

Maulana Azad Sobhani, who has been selected by the Khilafat Committee and the Muslim League to lead the prayers on the occasion of Id this year, in a statement to the "Associated Press" said: "The news of the withdrawal of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad from the Imamate of Id prayers is a satisfactory solution to the tangle both for the Maulana himself and the Mussalmans of Calcutta and suburbs. I congratulate both parties on this peaceful rapprochement and hope that this attitude will be shown in all matters.

"Workers of the Calcutta Khilafat Committee and the Calcutta Muslim League are to be congratulated for their sincere efforts which they made in the matter of bringing about peace and amity" —A. P.

"WE CRAVE PARDON FOR WHAT WE HAVE DONE"

The following is the authorised translation of the statement in Urdu issued by Mr. Raghib Ahsan, Secretary of the Calcutta Muslim League and Mulla Jan Mohamed, Secretary of the Calcutta Khilafat Committee:—

"We feel that in connection with the Imamate of Id prayers in the Calcutta Maidan the unfortunate agitation raised by us and the way it was organised should not have been done in that strain. This Id congregational prayer has been held every year harmoniously for a very long time. It is not desirable that there should be any split among Muslims over it. We, therefore, crave pardon for all that we have done".

In view of this apology Maulana Abul Kalam Azad has declared his intention of not leading the Id prayers and has appealed to his Muslim followers not to do anything to mar the happiness of the Id day.—United Press.

Egyptian Premier To Open Negotiations With Grand Mufti Of Arabs

(From Our Correspondent)

CAIRO, (By Air Mail).

Muhamed Mahmoud Pasha, the Prime Minister of Egypt is assuming the role of a peacemaker and will discuss the whole Palestine question once again with the Grand Mufti, who is still residing at Byrout, and is well posted with the latest developments in Palestine. The efforts will be made through private messenger, states an unconfirmed report published in a daily here. The report further says that the Colonial Secretary at London is in touch with the Prime Minister and a fresh scheme is to be placed before the Grand Mufti.

It may be recalled that a few months ago a proposal was forwarded to the Grand Mufti and the Arab Higher Committee that Palestine should be put under Egyptian Government's Administration, and the Jews there should be considered as a minority. The proposal was then rejected.

Subhas Bose Inaugurates First Socialist School For Congress Workers

LUCKNOW, Nov. 21.

Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose, Congress President, inaugurated the first Socialist School on lines of the Summer School at Sonepur to-day at Harha, fifty miles from Lucknow, for the purpose of training Congress workers in the ideology and principles of social reconstruction.

Acharya Narendradev, introducing the President, said that so far the Congress had made mere propaganda, but there has no training of ideology.

Mr. Bose referred to world conditions and said that Socialism was a modern philosophy of life. The age of individualism, with its resultant Capitalism, was over. At present the struggle between Capitalism and Socialism was going on in China and Spain.

Analysing the Indian conditions, Mr. Bose said that the British could "no longer shape our destiny". As India could not remain isolated from the world, "we should determine what we liked to be".

"I consider Socialism good for humanity. When I say good, I accept the principle, but its applications in India depend on history and the psychology of other factors. For free India, however, social reconstruction must be on socialistic lines.

Mr. Bose also addressed a meeting at Barabanki.—A. P.

HUDDAR FOR INDIA

Only Indian Who Fought In International Brigade For Spain

NAGPUR, Nov. 21.

Private advices received here indicate that Mr. G. M. Huddar, who was taken prisoner by the Spanish Nationalists and later arrived in England after his release in the beginning of this month, hopes to return to India on December 9. He will leave England this week and will sail from Marseilles for India on November 25.

OPPORTUNITY OF LIFETIME

Mrs. G. M. Huddar, wife of Huddar, interviewed, said that the report of her husband's arrest by Gen. Franco did not come to her as a surprise. For after his arrival in Paris in November, 1937, correspondence from him suddenly stopped and sometime later she received letters signed by "J. Smith" but she recognised his handwriting. In one of his letters Mr. Huddar had said that an opportunity of his lifetime had come hinting that he was going to the warfront in Spain. He also expressed his conviction that he would come out safe through this ordeal. However, Mr. Huddar did not reveal his destination.—A. P.

FOUR NEW INDIAN PICTURES FOR ID HOLIDAYS

Renuka Devi as Renu in "Bhabi", Bombay Talkies' coming attraction.

More About "Bhabi"

Picture Play From A Bengali Novel

The Bombay Talkies Studio executives are going ahead towards completion of their new vehicle "Bhabi".

None believes more religiously in the accepted ideology that Novelty is the Spice of Entertainment than do the helmsmen of the Bombay Talkies and this is amply evident from the selection of the subject of 'Bhabi'. Hitherto stories for Bombay Talkies' pictures were written "straight for the film" and although they contained the ingredients essential to make the story "gripping" in the required extent, it was found that certain finer points in the story were either difficult of being transferred to the celluloid or that if they were transferred successfully they were difficult of suggestive interpretation to the picture-goer of average intelligence.

The desire of the Bombay Talkies to hazard this new departure of selecting the subjects of their pictures from novels of repute and popularity emanates from the truth of the universally accepted principle that a novel essentially has the quality of describing most vividly such vital situations as deal with the emotional and sentimental side of human psychology.

For this reason, it is for the first time in the career of the Bombay Talkies that a story has been taken from a novel that has been acclaimed throughout the length and breadth of Bengal. The story comes from the pen of Mr. Saradindu Bannerjee and treats of the most sweetly romantic association of a Bhabi in every Indian home without, perhaps, even a single exception. This wonderfully gripping drama of human life and its vicissitudes is rich in its appeal and entirely human in its psychological conception.

The principal female lead in "Bhabi" has been entrusted to Renuka Devi, the Society Lady whose very small but charming performance in "Jeevan Prabhat" as Padma, the second wife of Nandlal (Kishore Sahu) and her wonderful portrayal of this character in the "finale" held out a definite promise for better and greater performances and this new acquisition of the Bombay Talkies. The role of Renu in the picture 'Bhabi' has given her now a chance to display the potentialities of which she is capable to an extent which would secure for her a pedestal many another artiste would vie to attain. Renuka Devi has, undoubtedly, become another new fing in the Indian filmdom with her performance in 'Bhabi'.

Neither Devika Rani and Ashok Kumar will be in this film. The hero's part will be played by Mr. Jairaj who made a success of his part in Devaki Bose's "Shikari". Maya and Meera are there with their best.

Raja Yagnik's "Vijay Kumar" featuring Sardar Mansoor, Saritadevi and Sayani is a musical comedy packed with that kind of thrills which appeal direct to the heart. Beautiful photography, artistic settings and costumes, new technique in music and gradual but powerful development of the plot are the main features of this coming Wadia picture.

Director Aspi's "Jai Swadesh," has come out of the scenario stages and as soon as "Jungle King" is finished, its shooting will start at the Wadia Studios.

"Mera Ladka" Coming To Central On Saturday

Prabhat's First Social Directed By K. Narayan Kale

Prabhat's second social picture "Mera Ladka" will be found to be even more absolving and more impressive than "Kunku". The film portrays the age-old conflict between yesterdays and to-days, age and youth. It is directed by Mr. K. Narayan Kale, himself a poet, an artist and a literateur, before he became assistant director of Prabhat. The picture comes to the Central Talkies on Saturday in place of "Gopalkrishna" which has not yet faded.

It is a most distinguishing characteristic of Prabhat that they never lay too much store by the stars who appear in a particular picture. They believe more in a theme and an atmosphere and direction, because they all together make stars provided a minimum of histrionic talent is there in an artist. Every time, they have had new faces, though by no means do they dispense with the services of older stars.

In "Mera Ladka", Shanta Hublikar, Ulhas, Vatsala Joshi, Mama Bhat and Vasant Thengdi are all new to the Prabhat Studio, but from what is known about their expected work, Prabhat will make nice stars of them, as every one who visits Central Talkies on Saturday will find art. Prabhat believes in talents and not in names i.e., made reputations.

Mr. Keshao Narayan Kale, the Director who is making this picture for Prabhat on his complete responsibility is well-known in literary, artistic and theatrical circles as an idealist and a creative literateur. He has a big chance in making this picture and he is expected to put it over creditably.

Shanta Hublikar, the heroine of "Mera Ladka" Prabhat's coming attraction.

"Street Singer" Coming On Id Day

Kananbala And Saigal Starring At Minerva

The prospect of seeing and hearing Saigal and Kananbala, first favourites with million Indian film-goers, teamed together in New Theatres' musical extravaganza "Street Singer" to be released by the Calcutta Film Exchange as the Id attraction at the Minerva Talkies, has roused such fever of expectation in Bombay that it must have a record premiere.

For sheer beauty of voice and melodious song, these two are unquestionably supreme in the world of Indian films, their popularity is in keeping with their pre-eminence as artistes and with these inestimable gifts they combine personalities that are irresistible for charm. Striking histrionic powers and in the case of Kananbala, beauty of face and person too.

In "Street Singer" Saigal and Kanan have full scope for their art and ability. The plot provides endless opportunity for song, dance and acting of the happy light-hearted characters in which both Saigal and Kananbala find their best expression. The music and musical direction is by the famous R. C. Boral, who has directed New Theatres' most successful musicals and the supporting cast includes all the studio stalwarts among others Jagdeesh, Rajkumari, Kapur and Vaid. The story, which is built around the lives of two orphans, who climb to fame and fortune by singing and dancing, combines pathos with romance and happiness to make most attractive picture.

If you love good music, throbbing and wonderful climax, you must make it a point to see "The Street Singer", directed by Sjt. Pahni Mazumdar who has given some very original twists to the story. It will be released at the Minerva from Id day, Thursday.

Varied Appeal Of "Industrial India"

Great Crowds Invading Opera House Snce Saturday

The Royal Opera House had a busy time of it on Saturday last when General Films released their third picture of the year, "Industrial India".

"Industrial India" strikes out a line entirely different from the two previous pictures of General Films. It conveys a message, that of the urgent necessity of starting industries in this country if we are to be economically self-sufficient and politically strong. But the message is put over in no dry and uninteresting manner but subtly suggested in a story that will easily lie ranked as one of the best that have been seen on the Indian screen.

About the appeal of the picture, it is sufficient to say that the crowded houses on Saturday and Sunday were kept in alternate roars of laughter and applause for almost the whole of three solid hours of such film fare as they had rarely enjoyed. There is plenty of comedy in "Industrial India", but it is not of the type usually favoured by Indian film producers and directors. There are no fat men whose marvellous eating capacity brings disgust when it is meant to excite laughter. The comedy is in the situations that arise and often rises to such heights as compare favourably with the best that Hollywood has ever achieved. Shamadevi as the temperamental film star whose every gesture is a threat to "walk out" on the producer, and Aundhker in the role of the latter, anxious to pacify her provide some of the best enjoyment that can come the way of the Bombay film fan in the next few days

Baby Indira in the role of Malti, the impertinent and over-wise younger sister of the heroine has given a really outstanding performance. After the first few minutes, when the audience is accustomed to her role, her appearance on the screen is greeted with applause. The future of this great little actress seems to be one of great promise.

On the more serious side, the role of Manorama, the heroine is undoubtedly the greatest in which Shobhana Samarth has ever appeared. The songs she sings, apart from the perfect technique which mark them will strike a sympathetic chord in the hearts of everyone who hears them. The chorus song about industries with its reference to Mahatma Gandhi and the Charkha will go down in the history of the Indian film industry as one of the boldest and most successful attempts to introduce the patriotic appal into Indian films that have ever been made. There is, no doubt, that Mrs. Samarth will, on the results of "Industrial India", be ranked as one of the greatest f our stars.

Prem Adib's name is ot unknown to the cinema-worl of India but even his ardent dmirers will be pleased at the magnificent way he has acted in "Industrial India". His patriotic ferour is infectious and his songs re to equal to if not better than any that have been heard frm any of our actors.

K. N. Singh's name has somehow come to be associatd with villainous parts. His role i General Films' "Baghban" as dissolute but designing youn man attracted considerable atention. In "Industrial India", however, he leaves villainy alone an plays the highly respectable part of the millionaire father of the hro in such a finished way as to kep the audience spell-bound.

R. Wasti as the villain i "Industrial India" also gives a very good performance. Indeed, ; can be said without fear of contadiction that each and every pe in "Industrial India" has bea extremely well played.

One of the greatest attrations of the picture is the fact that there is nothing fantastic about it. The audience feels at one with the characters when familiar sights and sounds, of which there are plenty in the picture pass along the screen.

The quality of a picture can be gauged more accurately by the expressions on the faces of the audience as it leaves the theatre than by almost anything else. And the expressions on the crowds at the Royal Opera House proclaim in no uncertain words that they have had more than their money's worth.

"Double Cross" features Bimlakumari who is already the idol of thousands. In this picture you will see her at her best. She is admirably supported by Nayampalli, Dilawar, Amina, Fatte Prasad, Gyani and Kishore.

The high spot-lights of "Double Cross" are the dainty songs by Gohar the renowned songstress from Bikaner and by Basir Kawal, the popular Radio-Singer. The photography by Franz Berks is a feature of this picture.

PUBLIC DEBATE ON 'BRAHMACHARI'

Winayak, Meenakshi And Atre To Attend

"Brahmachari" has been such a roaring success at the Majestic Cinema that no adventitious aids are any more necessary to make people appreciate its quality.

It has aroused such interest in literary and artistic circles that controversies on every small or big point in that picture are going on privately in every little gathering of college youths and offices manned by young clerks. Expression is being given to this public feeling on Thursday morning.

For, on Thursday, to-morrow, there will be a public debate on 'Brahmachari' at 9 a. m., in the Majestic Cinema. Several prizes have been announced, including one reserved for ladies.

Principal Atre, author of 'Brahmachari', will wind up the debate but will not be entitled for a prize'.

Mr. Winayak and Miss Meenakshi, the pair that accounts for the picture's popularity, will also be present.

The 'Sahitya Zabbushahi Vidhamsak Mandal' which has organised the debate, deserves compliments on its timely venture. The theme of 'Brahmachari' and the film itself have been accorded by the people a reception that entitle them to this recognition as a fit subject for a public debate.

Let them do this in respect of other pictures also, for it is a taste fun that all must appreciate.

At the Pathe, will be shown from to-day till Friday, the film "Under Two Flags" in which Ronad Colman and Claudette Colbet take principal roles.

SPENCER TRACY, who won the last Academy Award for his performance in "Captains Courageous' began his rise to film stardom following his role as Father Tim in "San Francisco." In "Boys Town," Tracy is seen as the idealistic Father Edward J. Flanagan, who established Omaha's famous Boys Town.

HOLLYWOOD TOPS WORLD AS NEWS CENTRE

Little Hollywood isn't even a city, but it tops all the world capitals and metropoli as a news centre.

Day in and day out the film capital is the greatest news spot in existence, with an average of 250,000 words daily going out from the hundreds of newspaper and magazine correspondents here.

The town and its people occupy more printed space than any other one group in existence. And the reason is easy—"names make news!"

Ramola in 'Cyclewali' of Mohan Pictures coming to Globe.

There are more "news names" in Hollywood than any other place in the world, regardless of ze. In this country, New York and Washington are its only rivals, and they're a weak second. And when it comes to names known the world over, not merely in the United States, the movie capital is in a class by itself.

By conservative estimate there are 200 Hollywoodites whose names are known in every civilized land. Some, like Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd, are even known to natives in the darkest jungles.

Compare Hollywood's 200 world-known names with the capital at Washington. President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hull, Senator Borah and Justice Hughes are practically the only ones who can qualify for international reputations.

Into the space of a few acres any major Hollywood studio crowds more world names than these. Paramount has 26 acres and inside its walls are Bing Crosby, Jack Benny, John Barrymore, Claudette Colbert, Ronald Colman, Gary Cooper, Bob Burns, Irene Dunne, Cecil B. DeMille, and a dozen more.

It takes all of New York to equal this list, and there are six other major studios to add their notables to the Paramount roster.

Since Olympe (O-lamp) Bradna started working in "Say it in French", she doesn't have much time to give her dog personal attention, so has hired dog caterers to bring his food every day and take him out for exercise.

"ADHIKAR" A TREAT FOR INTELLECTUALS

Inter Play Of Human Emotions

Due to masterly presentation and due to his deep study of human psychology, Director Barua displays his wonderful art of film technique in social epic "Adhikar" wihch is drawing crowded houses at the Roxy Talkies, released through Messrs. Kapurchand Ltd.

Can you ever imagine what happens when the emotions of the two hearts belonging to two different standards of society clash? Can you think of the result when there occurs the fight of feelings arising from the deepest corners of hearts? See all these abstract and dreamy world of thoughts most powerfully expressed on the silver screen by Mr. Barua—who is one and only director in India-to personify such human nature by some of his seven shots.

"Adhikar" is a social drama which depicts a struggle of a girl who was left alone in the dark alleys of the city by her father—because he knew that she was his child of illegitimate love. Her other sister comes to know by a letter sent by her and she—the rich sister gives her a chance to stay with her. The scheme of things which develop afterwards make this screen hit a perfect arena where varied forms of human emotions are the real contestants. You will be dazzled to see the last climax of this psychological drama.

The main stars are Jamuna, Barua, Menaka, Pahari, Sanyal, Jagdish, Punkaj, Mullic, Kapoor, etc. The musical score by Sjt. Timir Baran enhances the entertainment value of this screen vehicle.

If you really love an intellectual drama, marvellously told on the screen, go and see "ADHIKAR" at the Roxy.

FINANCE MEMBER CALLS ON MR. JINNAH

Muslim League Party's Attitude To Income-Tax Bill Not Yet Decided

(From Our Correspondent.)
NEW DELHI, Nov. 21.

With Mr Jinnah's arrival, the lobby has been very busy in connection with the Income-Tax Bill. A large number of Muslim merchants are encamping in Delhi to influence the Muslim voters regarding the taxation of foreign income which they want to be on a remittance basis.

Yesterday morning, Sir James Grigg, Finance Member called on Mr. Jinnah to discuss the Income-Tax Bill and secure his party's support for Government proposals. What transpired at the meeting remains a guarded secret but this evening Mr. Jinnah will probably take his party into confidence, when it meets to decide their attitude regarding clause 4 and taxation of foreign income.

Several merchants from Bombay, Sind, Madras, Ceylon and Burma met Mr. Jinnah yesterday to explain how Government proposals affected their interests. It is considered unlikely that the Muslim League Party will arrive at a decision this evening, since the meeting will be necessarily short owing to Ramzan.

In the Assembly, general discussion will continue till Wednesday and thereafter consideration of Clauses will start. The special session will probably continue till after December 10.

Help The Poor Ryot

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Out of these 13 lacs cultivators in the province only 4½ lacs peasants hold five or more than five acres of land each, the balance 8½ lacs being those peasants whose holdings do not exceed five acres in each case. In the last class then, the land-division per capita cannot be more than one acre per head of population, which is insufficient as a means of bare subsistence for one human being, the average individual family being supposed to compose of five members. It is therefore self-evident that about one-fourth of the total rural population is forced to live in a perpetual state of chronic starvation and are therefore under-nourished; a condition which no civilised Government worth its salt can or should tolerate, let alone a Congress Ministry. It may be stated without the fear of any logical contradiction, that the cultivating Agriculturist in general, even when he is able to supplement his earnings from other secondary and subsidising sources such as personal manual labour, spinning etc., etc., lives on the border lines of hunger and starvation; and therefore as a potential factor in the national defence and national economy, deserves to be reset on his feet, as a measure of general economic uplift, the incidence of taxation therefore must be shifted and the Land-Revenue as such, subject to the provision as hereafter suggested to liquidate the Agriculturist Debt, should be abolished. The Agricultural income be treated on par as any other income and should be subjected to a modified Land Rental equivalent in theory and practice to the Indian Income-tax, the probable Budget deficits of 3 to 3½ crores of rupees can and may be easily made up by the revenue to be derived from the Public Utility Monopoly companies operating in the Province. The Land-owners pay a minimum sum of about Rs. 2¼ crores annually as interest charges. Added to the Land-Revenue figure of Rs. 3¼ crores this gives a total of Rs. 6 crores annually which the cultivators must pay and do generally pay. Rs. 6 crores paid into a Sinking Fund at 3 per cent., in 5 years, would amount to Rs. 32½ crores, an amount which would wipe out the entire agriculturist debt, the Government may rest assured that the Money-Lenders will be only too pleased to accept and get even Rs. 30 crores for the amount claimed and due to them, whatever its apparent magnitude, and they will wipe the slate clean, provided of course the Government do take over the responsibility to collect and pay. The present illogical capitalistic system under which the community is living, is fast crumbling to pieces and the Government in the interests of stability must act before it is too late. It is definite and conclusive that the abolition of the Land-Revenue as such even for a short period of 5 years, and using that amount for liquidating the agriculturist debt, would set the community as a whole on its legs. Of course Laws must be promulgated to avoid a similar hopeless condition getting a hold on society once again. The best remedy is to declare the minimum average of small holding (land) inalienable and to so reduce the rate of interest allowable on agriculturist debt, so as to make the money flow towards the Industrial development of the Province. The Government may then either borrow Rs. 30 crores from the Reserve or the Imperial Bank or issue Negotiable Bonds of an equivalent amount, thereby creating extra credit, as they may deem fit. If accepted, the plan would result in a Budget deficit of Rs. 3½ crores annually for the first five years and Rs. 3 crores annually thereafter, the problem therefore is "How to balance the Budget?" As suggested before the attention of the Government may be directed to the Public Utility Monopoly companies operating in the Province, which is a hitherto untapped source of Revenue, and which, if scientifically handled, would not only wipe out the deficit in question but would also leave a surplus for the much needed reforms such as prohibition, etc.,—Yours, etc.

Plantain Merchants' Grievance

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—We, the Plantain Merchants, Jalgaon, East Khandesh, seek your help in our grievances which we have humbly laid, for so many times before the Railway authorities, but with no effect. Will you be so kind enough as to convey our grievance through your esteemed paper?

Wagons are not properly supplied. We have to wait for the approach of the empty wagons, with 50 bullock carts loaded with plaintains at the stations, some times for the period of two days. That means 100 bullocks along with 50 drivers arranged for loading one wagon have to arrange for their livelihood, nobody, knows upto what time.

To avoid delay and trouble of the loss of the goods, wagons should be kept in stock at the below mentioned stations, as they are the main centres of the plantains. (1) Savda, (2) Jalgaon, (3) Bhusaval, and (4) Pachora.

A Special Officer should be appointed specially for the perishable to look after the demands of the merchants throughout the season, so that he should come in contact with the Kisans as well as with the merchants and his office should be at Bhusaval.—Yours etc.

One-Day Strike

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—I feel constrained to say a few words on trade disputes bill and the consequent strike which followed on Monday last. There was actual terror in the labour areas and particularly at Worli where the Ambedkarites are in a strong position.

When we read appeals of Mr. Jamnadas Mehta and Dr. Ambedkar on the previous day of the strike to the volunteers to remain peaceful and non-violent, we thought that after all they did their duty and it was left to the volunteers to carry out the wishes of their foremost leaders. But lo! what was the actual state of affairs on Monday morning. There was open violence everywhere and the police were not to be seen any where A group of workers started on their journey to the mills and they were severely dealt with by the so-called strikers and also by the street urchins who were instigated to boo and harass the peaceful workers. Some of us who had courage to dodge some rowdies, received an open threat that we would be drowned in the gutter at Worli if we failed to obey them. We waited in agroup for about an hour and a half hoping to meet some police and take their protection, but, unfortunately, not a single policeman was on the scene till 10 o'clock when a van containing some constables passed by. All this happened on the main road from Worli corner to Century Mills.

When we think of all that we witnessed on Monday, we have a feeling that no proper arrangement was made by the Government for peaceful workers to attend to their respective mills.

In conclusion we have to say that such acts of hooliganism and terrorism should be put an end to with an iron hand whenever they raise their heads so that the peace of the city and the security of human lives may not be endangered.—Yours, etc.

Wanted Better Pavements

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—The Courtesy Week move on the part of the Safety First Association as an experimental measure to reducing traffic accidents is indeed a step in the right direction and the public will most willingly co-operate with the association in making it a success.

While one admits that a number of road accidents in Bombay are due to the fact that the public do not know how to make proper use of the roads and pavements and require a systematic training before they become road conscious, it is also true that the roads and pavements must be cleared of the hawkers, dirt and filth which cause obstruction to the pedestrian traffic. For this purpose the public will require the support and co-operation of the Municipal authorities who apear to be slow to realize the difficulties of the public. The Safety First Association will be doing a great service to the public if they will draw the pointed attention of the Municipal authorities to the following points:

1. Providing suitable pavements at crowded places such as Bhuleshwar where such pavements do not exist at present.

2 Providing suitable markets to hawkers and petty shop-keepers who are found to cause great obstruction to the public using the pavements These hawkers sit on the footpaths by licence from the Municipal Commissioner who is authorised under the Municipal Act to give such licences.

3 To immediately improve the conditions of the pavements that are either very slippery or in a hopelessly bad condition and the use of which has been many a time the cause of fatal accidents.

4 Widen Pavements at places which are open to heavy traffic.—Yours etc.,

DHARWAR MUNICIPAL SCHOOL BOARD

Some New Features

Mr. R. R. Diwakar writes:—

The Triennial Report of the Dharwar Municipal School Board makes very interesting reading in view of the new features introduced during the last three years ending in November 1938. Dharwar is a small town with 35.000 souls and other towns of the same type may find the report instructive also.

The total number of scholars attending the school is 4.309 which is 12.5 per cent. of the population while the percentage of pupils of school-going age is 15. Obviously a lesser percentage of girls attend the schools.

The main features observable are the introduction of compulsory physical training, vocational training, and teachers' and children's libraries.

The Chairman, Dr. Kabbur, rightly complains of want of playgrounds for children and that handicaps the programme very much. The dingy school rooms where children of young age are huddled up without any space about them and with no playgrounds are absolutely out of date and the new school buildings opened by Mr. Aryanayakam in Dharwar must serve as a model in this matter. Foot-drill, lathi-drill, Lezim, Namaskar, freehand exercises, team-games—such as Hutututu, Khokho, etc.—and a number of other interesting games are taken up in the programme. A number of competitions, shields, etc., keep up the enthusiasm quite well.

The next and the most important item is the vocational training. When we are thinking very hard as regards the Wardha Scheme, it is quite a welcome move on behalf of the Dharwar School Board to have boldly taken up this item. The Board has introduced spinning and carding, Bookbinding, carpentry and sewing. It is notable that the Board has engaged the services of a carpenter, a seamstress and a spinning teacher. The results also are quite encouraging. Some of the boys who have gone out are already earning 6 to 8 annas by carpentry.

The experiment regarding spinning is much more interesting in so far as the lady teachers have learnt carding and are supplying slivers to the children. More than 50 Charkhas are plying and the yarn produced is more than a maund. What is more interesting is that the cloth (Khaddar) would go to make the uniforms of children of the Harijans of the schools. This is a very good and ennobling idea, as the Chairman puts it.

On the whole, the report is written in a business-like manner and both interesting and instructive for all those who take interest in the future of primary education.

Made Turkey 'Strong Man Of Europe'

Kemal Combined Qualities Of Soldier, Statesman And Reformer

MR. P. F. BHARUCHA WRITES.

ALAS, KEMAL ATATURK IS NO MORE. HIS LIFE WAS AN EPIC—FROM START TO FINISH.

HIS BODY WAS AGILE AND ACTIVE. HIS MIND WAS WHOLLY MATHEMATICAL-COLD, CLEAR, CALCULATING AND CONSTRUCTIVE. HIS HEART WAS CENTRED IN HIS RACE.

HIS ONE DREAM WAS TO RAISE HIS PEOPLE—FROM THE PROVERBIAL "SICK MAN OF EUROPE." TO THE STRONG MAN OF THE WORLD.

He strove and struggled and sacrificed his all to attain it. Providence put Kemal to the hardest test; he stood it, and won it with glory for his beloved country—Turkey.

A Born Soldier, Statesman And Strategist

Mustafa, for that was his real name, was so moulded, that nothing daunted him, perplexed him or embarrassed him. He was always ready in the service of his dear country, whenever foreigners tried to truncate Turkey. He proved his martial spirit; and was soon promoted in the Turkish army.

AS A STATESMAN, Kemal could forsee the folly of Turkey joining Germany and Austria in the war of 1914—18. He was dead opposed to it; but who would listen to the advice of this young officer at the time?

HIS SUPERB STRATEGY when the Allies concentrated their forces on the Dardanelles to storm Istambul and clear the route for the Allies' Navy to enter the Black Sea; Kemal displayed superb strategy; smashed the superior forces of the Allies; and forced them to beat a retreat.

His Fine Foresight

With his fine foresight, he could perceive the deep game that the Allies were playing for dismembering Turkey, even after the Armistice! The Greeks were given a free hand in fair Smyrna; So that Turkey would be wiped off even from Asia.

His Dash To Smyrna

Kemal Pasha,—for that was then his title, rushed across the straits; entered Asiatic Turkey; gathered the remnants of the old Turkish army; and fought valiantly against the Greek forces for months, with varying success. When the last battle was fought, Kemal's position was critical. It was one midnight, during this period, that I walked into the "Chronicle" office, and found its the then Editor, the late Marmaduke Pickthall in tears. Pickthall had first hand knowledge of Turkey, of Smyrna, of the ferocity of the Greek invasion and of the slender resources of Kemal Pasha. But this writer had an inherent feeling, that Kemal and Turkey would triumph at last; and this he conveyed to Pickthall, who looked radiant with delight.

Kemal, Victorious!

Both luck and pluck favoured Kemal Pasha. He won. He drove the Greeks out of Smyrna; and became famous as Ghazi Mustafa Kemal Pasha.

A Rare Reformer, Regenerator And Revolutionary

No other man, in Modern Times, has moulded his people—from a crude material to a finished, fine article. He carried them from ignorance to knowledge; from superstition to reason; from fanaticism to rationalism; from conservatism to progress. He did away with the Fez, the Veil, the Harem and the Turkish alphabet. He freed and trained and raised the women of Turkey. He revolutionised their life, their dress, their habits, their outlook; and made them all free, self-respecting and staunch servants of the Turkish State. Verily, Mustfa metamorphosed old Turkey: breathed a new life; infused a new spirit; and made Turkey a model State, in East and West. Verily, Kemal was the Father of his people: and was lovingly called Ataturk.

Unique Dictator—Selfless, Benevolent, And Humane

We have read in History of Napoleon Bonaparte and Bismark. We have, in our times, seen the Kaiser and the Czar. We are watching the Dictatorships of Mussolini and Hitler. Theirs was and is the reign of Might over Right; of exploitation and annexation; of self-aggrandisement and self-glorification. But, Mustafa Kemal, a devoted disciple of the great Lenin, has given to the world a unique Dictatorship, selfless, benevolent, humane; a Dictatorship, which has freed and democratised Turkey; and left her neighbours in peace and prosperity. Hitler and Mussolini may boast of their glory. But, the world knows, that whilst their glory is terrestial, Kemal Ataturk's is celestial.

A Real Saviour Of Islamic Countries

Few have fully realised Kemal's greatest achievement as a real Saviour of Islamic Countries in Near and Middle East. But for his timely and fierce fight in Smyrna, Turkey would have been non-existent; the Greeks would have been masters of Smyrna, the British of Istambul and the Dardanelles. The independence of the Hedjaj, Iran and Afghanistan was threatened. The inroads into Middle East were checked by Kemal. He was the bulwark of Peace for Turkey and her Southern and Eastern Islamic States. He was their Saviour and silent Sentinel. East is proud of her Kemal. West must emulate Kemal. Will India follow Kemal? Homage to Kemal—the Immortal Ataturk—the Invincible Hero of Modern Asia.

BANNU RAID INQUIRY

Hindus And Sikhs Demand Change Of Personnel

BANNU, Nov. 21.

'Frequent raids by the tribal territory people are committed on villages with the active connivance of local bad characters and the houses of Hindus and Sikhs are ransacked. Hindu men, women and children are kidnapped and taken across the border, where they are put to very severe torture till they pay heavy ransom for their release"

Thus says a written statement of the Hindus and Sikhs of Bannu laid before Mahatma Gandhi during his recent visit to the town, and released to the Press yesterday.

They added that Government had confessed their inability to protect the life and property of the Hindus and Sikhs living in the village as they had issued orders to those living in distant villages to shift to big towns for their safety.

They demanded a change of the personnel of the Bannu Raid Enquiry Committee and widening the scope of reference, more money than Rs 20,000 sanctioned as immediate relief to the sufferers of the Bannu raid of the 23rd July, supersession of the Bannu Municipality, introduction of books published by the Anjuman-i-Hamiyyat-ul-Islam in the primary schools of the province and the reinstatement of Master Abdullah Shah.—United Press.

SHIAS TO JOIN CONGRESS

Lucknow Address To Subhas: Busy Day For Congress President

LUCKNOW, Nov. 21.

The Lucknow Shias' apprehensions regarding Government's attitude towards the Madhesaheba question as well as their determination to join the Congress and fight for the country's freedom and undergo all sacrifices for it was expressed in an address of welcome presented to President Subhas Chandra Bose this evening.

Replying to the welcome Mr. Bose welcomed their decision to join the Congress and observed that the Congress being the only political organisation in the country every community should join it.

Moreover it was the only organisation, which was fighting for the country's freedom.

Allaying their apprehensions Mr. Bose said that the matter was engaging the attention of the United Provinces Government and he hoped that the Government would do justice to their interests.

"The aim of students' life should be to prepare for sacrifice at the altar of the Deshmata", said Mr Subhas Chandra Bose, the Congress President, while addressing the students of the Kanyabubja Intermediate College, Lucknow, this evening.

He said: "I believe we should be successful in this fight, because our foundation is based on truth and non-violence. The Congress is the only organisation which is fighting for the country's freedom. India needs strict discipline. "So from childhood discipline should be taught through the Boy Scout movement, the Seva Samiti and other organisations".

Purses for the Motilal Memorial Fund were presented to him by the Students.

BUSY DAY FOR CONGRESS PRESIDENT

The Congress President had a busy day to-day. In the morning he attended a tea-party here and proceeded to Bara-Banki, 17 miles off Lucknow.

ADVICE TO PEASANTS

Mr. Subhas Bose, addressing a gathering of peasants at Bara-Banki, exhorted all to join the Congress, the only national organisation. If the Congress had defects, Mr. Bose said, the masses need not remain aloof. They should rather join it in increasing numbers and run the organisation through the right channel.

From Bara-Banki Mr. Bose went to Haraha, 51 miles to the east of Lucknow, where he performed the opening ceremoney of the School of Politics of Socialists, which will be run under the patronage of the Raja of Haraha, a staunch Congressman.

After the function Mr. Bose unfurled the National Flag over the school. Thereafter he was shown round the Technical Training School founded by the Raja Saheb.

Mr. Bose returned to Lucknow at 4 p. m.—United Press.

AMRITSAR, Nov. 21

Reports have reached the Punjab Kisan Committee from Burewal in the Nilibar Colony that the tenants there have totally refused to collect cotton from the fields as the tender-holders have refused to abide by the terms of the settlement arrived at between them in the presence of Sardar Ajit Singh, M.L.A., and the Revenue Officer.

Reports further say that the tenants of Haka Bahari have also suspended the picking up of cotton from the fields and sowing wheat since a week as a protest against the non-fulfilment of their demands.—United Press.

No Gagging Of Minorities

Frontier Agricultural Produce Markets Bill To Be Circulated

PESHAWAR, Nov. 22.

When the Frontier Assembly met this morning, Mr. Jagat Singh continued his unfinished yesterday's speech on his motion that the N. W. F. P. Agricultural Produce Markets Bill be circulated to elicit public opinion thereon.

He deplored the fact that representatives of the community who would be affected by the bill had not been taken into confidence.

Mr. Mehr Chand Khanna characterised the bill as "Black Bill" and said that he had closely studied the measure and had come to the conclusion that it was analogous to a similar bill introduced in the Punjab Legislative Assembly. He attacked the provisions of the bill relating to licensing of traders and expressed the opinion that in no other Congress province such provisions existed. Therefore he supported the the circulation motion.

MINISTER'S REPLY

Mr. Muhammad Abbaskhan, Minister of Industries, in lucid Urdu, explaining the principle of the Bill, said that the Government were not actuated by communal considerations when the measure was drafted. He refuted the allegations that the bill was brought on the Legislative anvil to gag the Minorities in the province.

It was only sought, he added, to safeguard the interests of agriculturists from unscrupulous traders who "are sucking their blood".

Mr. Jagat Singh's motion for circulation was pressed to a division and was carried by 23 votes to 10.

The House adjourned 'sine die.'

The sitting was short and the attendance was thinner than on any other day during the present session.—A. P.

"Marvellous" Says Physician, Testing New Cold Remedy

Ends Tiny Patient's Suffering With Vaporizing Ointment That Is Just Rubbed On

Cold sufferers everywhere will rejoice at what this practising physician has to say about Vicks VapoRub, the new external remedy. "I gave Vicks VapoRub a fair trial when I used it on a tiny patient, six months old, who suffered from a cold. The result was marvellous." Dr. A. L. V., Dinapore.

No wonder doctors, as well as mothers, prefer this modern treatment for colds. They like it not only because it brings relief so quickly, but also because it's safe—there is nothing to swallow, nothing that might upset the stomach as internal medicines so often do. All you do is rub this pleasant vaporizing ointment on the throat and chest at bedtime.

Acts Instantly—Two Ways at Once

Almost before you finish rubbing, there is a comfortable tingle on the little one's chest as VapoRub begins to act direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time, warmed by the body, VapoRub releases medicated vapours which are breathed in for hours, 18 times a minute, direct to the irritated air-passages of the nose, throat, and chest.

This combined poultice and vapour action makes the child feel better right away as it starts to soothe irritation, loosen phlegm, relieve coughing, and break up congestion. With the breathing easier, the little patient soon drops off to restful sleep. And while he sleeps, VapoRub goes on working hour after hour. By morning, almost always, the worst of the cold is over. Even grown-ups' colds yield quickly to VapoRub's powerful double action.

worst. Of course to this Mr. MacDonald would reply that there are precedents for his decision. He might well point out that in Egypt, Ireland and India when the moderate leaders failed to deliver the goods the British Government had no hesitation in opening negotiations with Zaglul Pasha, Mr. De Valera and Mahatma Gandhi.

Fascists Exploit Britain's Blunders

In the meantime, rumours circulating in the Near East speak of the existence of a secret agreement between the German Nazis and a group of pan-Arab politicians. Elimination of the British influence from the Near East seems to be the most essential point of the agreement. A bureau of the Arab Confederation is already working in Berlin under the name of Arab Defence Committee. There is no doubt that the rising wave of Fascism that has swallowed up Abyssinia, Austria and Czechoslovakia and which is threatening Spain and China, has been extending its influence in the Near East among the Arab peoples who are oppressed by British and French Imperialism. Since 1935, German Nazism and Italian Fascism have tried to use the liberation movements as instruments in their joint policy of undermining the British and French Empires, and the pro-Fascist policy of the British Government has created a situation in which Fascist influence has been able to establish itself in those parts most vulnerable to British Imperialist strategy. Palestine's key position having made a tight hold over Palestine necessary, it is there that the struggle for Arab liberation has been strongest: and it is precisely where the struggle is sharpest, and where oppression and suffering are greatest, that the soil is most fertile for Fascist demagogy. The salvation of the Arab people, so the Fascist agents tell them, lies not in Britain, which is "Jew-controlled," but in Rome and in Berlin.

How Zionism Grew

On the other hand, the founder of the new political Zionism, Dr. Theodore Herzl, expounded his views in a pamphlet called "The Jewish State." His idea was to win support for his scheme by "diplomatic negotiation." He approached Plehve, at the time Minister of the Interior of the Russian Empire, and Abdul Hamid, Sultan of Turkey. Joseph Chamberlain, then British Minister for Colonies, was also approached for British support of Jewish colonisation in Cyprus, which was immediately refused. It was also suggested to him that El Harish and the Sinai Peninsula, which lay on the borders of Egypt, would do, but these plans were killed by opposition in Egypt. The British offered instead Uganda, a territory in British East Africa, and Herzl, supported by a large number of his followers, was quite sympathetic to this proposal. But the project was killed by bitter opposition on the part of the Russian Zionists. The results of the negotiations were practically nil and Herzl died a disappointed man, though his teachings were carried on by a group of young Jewish intellectuals, of whom the most outstanding was Dr. Chaim Weizmann, who has now become the leader of the world Zionist movement. It was the great war that gave Zionism its great opportunity. Finding it necessary to make an ally of Zionism, in order to use it as a powerful buffer against the Arab Liberation Movement, to whom promises had been made in order to win its support, British Imperialism promised Jewry that after the war it should have a National Home in Palestine. The effect of this alliance, consecrated in the Balfour Declaration and in the Palestine Mandate, was to make possible the development of Zionism into the powerful and well-financed movement it is to-day.

Dominated By Business

If proof were needed of this, the acceptance by the world Zionist leadership of the principle of partitioning Palestine and of establishing there a Jewish State having Treaty relations with Britain (that is, for practical purposes a British Dependency) would be sufficient. For British-Jewish interests would feel more safely protected within a Jewish State, and British-Jewish capital would find a safer and more exclusive field for investment, protected by British bayonets. As an example of this, the demand made by Dr. Weizmann in his secret bargaining the then British Colonial Secretary, Ormsby-Gore, is illuminating; he asked that the Jewish State should include the Palestine Electricity Company, and Palestine Potash Limited, both of them British concerns with Zionist connections. But those sections of Big Business behind Zionism which are represented by the American Jewish capitalists are, of course, strongly opposed to partition, which they consider a barrier to the penetration of American capital; since the new Jewish State, more than ever closely linked with Britain, would be able more easily to exclude foreign investments than is possible in the present mandated Palestine. So we find that their spokesmen, the American Zionist leaders, are the most resolute and bitterest critics of the partition.

The fact that Zionism is dominated by Jewish and British Big Business, must not, however, be allowed to obscure the progressive motives of many of the rank and file Zionists. These men and women, devoting their energies, often even their lives, to the service of what they see as an ideal, to banish the misery and horror of persecution from Jewish life, are not reactionaries. They provide yet another example of the infinite capacity of man to visualise a better future and of his courage to fight for it. The greater, therefore, the tragedy that their aspirations, their energies, and their courage should be perverted to serve the interests of reaction.

LIGHT ON MUNICH

How The Czechs Were Betrayed

(From Our Own Correspondent)
LONDON, Friday Nov. 11.

I understand that a forthcoming book by an important Czech official, under the pen name of Peter Buk, will tell the whole astonishing story of the Munich betrayal enacted by Mr. Neville Chamberlain, the British Prime Minister, and M. Daladier, the French Prime Minister.

In the meantime, there is a revelation in the current issue of the "New Statesman and Nation" about what actually happened at the Munich conference. It is stated that on arrival at Munich the two representatives of Czechoslovakia were met and escorted by the German secret police to the hotel of the British delegation. That was at 3 p.m. At 10 p.m. they secured admittance to Sir Horace Wilson's room, where they were warned that if the Czechs did not accept promptly they would be left to make their own terms with Germany and that the French would not help them.

At 1-30 a.m. after Hitler and Mussolini had gone, they met the rest and it was left to M. Leger to explain bluntly that no reply from Czechoslovakia was expected by the British and French Prime Ministers to the deal that they had made with Hitler and Mussolini and that the deal was regarded as already accepted by the Czechs people.

WOMEN ANTI-HINDI AGITATORS

Eight Sent To Jail

MADRAS, Nov. 21.

For a second time since the commencement of the anti-Hindi movement, women volunteers took to picketing to-day. Eight women, five of them with children in arms, besides two men picketed the Hindu Theological High School this morning shouting anti-Hindi slogans. All of them were arrested and taken in a police lorry to the George Town Police Court.

The eight arrested women were produced before the Second Presidency Magistrate, who sentenced them to pay a fine of Rs. 50 in default to undergo six weeks simple imprisonment. The fine not being paid, they were sent to the penitentiary. The two men volunteers were sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 50 in default to six weeks rigorous imprisonment.

A crowd collected outside the Court and made a demonstration as soon as the judgment was pronounced.

The demonstrators were quickly dispersed by the police. It is reported that while dispersing, some people among the crowd threw stones, as a result of which some glasspanes in some nearby buildings were smashed.

BLACK-WASH ON MYSORE FIRING

Ramesam Report Exonerates Viduraswatham Crowd, Says Dr. Pattabhi

WARDHA, Nov. 21.

Dr. Pattabhi Sitaramayya, President of the States People's Conference, when interviewed regarding his opinion about the report of Justice Ramesam's Viduraswatham Firing Inquiry Committee said: "The papers have described the Ramesam Inquiry Committee report as the "Viduraswatham Whitewash" and I wish it were so. To my mind it looks as though the events have been black-washed.

CROWD EXCULPATED

"The contents of the report are really better than the summary. After all, in tracing the causes of the riots, you have to trace the events to their origin and not get confused with reference to cause and effect by later developments and judged from this viewpoint, the Viduraswatham crowd have been completely exculpated. The first provocation is given by the police, for the report reads "the evidence is conclusive showing that at that time (as opposed to the evening stone-throwing) there were no stones from the terrace or from inside or the verandah of the old Choultry.

If so, no shots should have been aimed in those directions. It is clear that at least one rifle was directed towards the eastern entrance of the Choultry. On a careful consideration of all material before us, it seems to us that before the Lathi charge was delivered, the crowd, though defiant, was non-violent. It is not unlikely that a few among the mischievous elements in the crowd indulged in stone-throwing. Such pelting of stones, however, must have been only occasional and not so severe or persistent as to raise, at that stage, an apprehension in the officers' minds that the crowd was about to make an attack on them".

KEYNOTE OF REPORT

"This is the keynote of the report and if there is anything else, which is equally important, it is the preceding paragraph in which the District Magistrate has been held responsible for the bungling on the part of the officers on the spot. He is reported to have fled from his duty-post and hidden himself somewhere for safety, leaving the matter to the in-experienced Sub-Divisional Magistrate.

TACTICAL ERROR

"The Viduraswatham Inquiry Committee further admits "that there was error from a tactical viewpoint. After the police had retreated into the quadrangle under cover of the fire, any further shooting, if it was necessary, would have been strictly directed only towards those directions, from which the mob was advancing and stones were being thrown". In effect it means that at the outset there was no stone-throwing and therefore the Lathi charge was the provocative cause.

"Once this is established, the series of further events play the part of cause and effect, for it is clearly stated that before the Lathi charge was delivered, the crowd, "though defiant, was non-violent".

NERVOUS OFFICIAL

"At the time when the event occurred, I had described in a Press interview then that Mr. Appaji Gouda was a nervous and excitable officer, who showed a bit of himself to us in our Mysore tour in the Kolar District, of which he was the District Magistrate. The real essence of the Viduraswatham Report consists in exonerating the crowd and incriminating the officers. The rest contains in saving Mysore Government's face".—A. P.

Russian Theories Do No Good To India

planes, machine guns, torpedoes and much ammunition, men and money were being used for the purpose. In the battles for selfish aggrandizement of nations or individuals, bigger nations swallowed the smaller ones.

The workers of this country and the conditions here could not be compared to those in other nations. The workers' raj of Russia had been paraded here. But Russia's instance was primarily different because that regime was founded by virtue of a military force. But that big revolution, one could gather from the fact that there was no peace and contentment in a complete manner, had not yet fulfilled the promise of Swaraj which the fathers of the Revolution gave to the workers in 1917.

The Premier personally thought that such conflicting ideologies like the theories of class warfare and class collaboration were bound to exist and continue till Truth established itself.

But those thoughts were not quite befitting the occasion which was for a more ennobling purpose, because the "Labour Mandir" which was being built, would give them relaxation.

He, then, asked the workers to imagine for themselves how unhabitable were the chawls which had been built for them by Lloyd and Harvey who lavishly spent the tax-payers money for those chawls.

THE TWO FLAGS

Referring to the shouts of "Victory to Red Flag" and the "Black Bill Must go" from a section of people in the surrounding chawl compounds, the Premier said that he was aware of the stir among the workers which had been recently engendered over the Trades Disputes Bill and how some children had been goaded on to sing those slogans.

The movement had been directed against the Congress. He would not be sorry if the Red Flag was victorious, but he could say that the Bill was neither Black nor Red. And workers should not be perturbed if it was dubbed as a Black one and there was nothing to be ashamed of in being called black. So many outsiders had called the people of India as black and with all that their faith had never been shaken.

The Bill was as yellow as gold and as valuable, he added.

Referring to the prohibition campaign launched for two days, the Premier said that the experiment had given excellent results, albeit it might be only for two days. When complete prohibition was launched, he hoped and trusted that women would take a leading part in it and make it a complete success.

Out of the 10 lakhs sanctioned by the Government for giving amenities to workers, one lakh had been earmarked for the purpose of setting recreation centres. There would be three or four more such Labour centres in the city. He hoped that more millowners in the city would take up the idea for the welfare and happiness of the workers.

Mr. Putli, on behalf of the employees, congratulated Mr. Ramnath Podar.

With the singing of the "Vande Mataram" the function came to a close.

"RUPEE FUND" IN INDIA?

To Help Jewish Refugees From Germany

An Englishman in Karachi in a communication to "The Daily Gazette writes:

"Is it not possible to start a "Rupee Fund" in India for Jewish refugees as soon as possible?

"They are in dire distress for funds, and one thinks first and foremost, of the children who are witnessing medieval horrors in Germany.

"I am sure every Briton will help when they remember what 'Dizzy' did for Britain.

STOCK EXCHANGE EASIER

Tin Quota Unchanged

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

LONDON, Nov. 22.

The Stock Exchange was quietly easier apart from Home Rails, which improved. Argentine rails were subjected to profit-taking. Other industrials were patchy.

In commodities tin opened weak on Continental liquidation but rallied on the announcement that the quota for the first quarter of 1939 will remain unchanged and turned firm and active after official hours.

Foreign Exchanges were active. Sterling encountered general Continental selling engendered by renewed fears regarding European politics. On the other hand French Franc met good demand and it is estimated French control acquired 5 million sterling, while preventing undue appreciation.

Wall Street opened easy.

Improved Demand On N. Y. Cotton Exchange

PRICES HARDEN UNDER TRADE PRICE-FIXING

Foreign Support For Distant Deliveries

BOMBAY, Nov. 22.

The New York Cotton Market was about the brightest feature of the American Markets on Monday, prices hardening under trade price-fixing of nears and foreign buying of late months.

Advices from Washington indicate numerous proposals at the next session of the Congress for changes in the Farm Legislation but hitherto there had been no disclosure of any definite plans.

The market opened steady but was inactive and hesitant early in the session owing to liquidation and hedge selling. But prices hardened on trade price-fixing of nears. Interest was centred on December liquidation which was readily absorbed by trade shorts and leading Spot houses. The market reacted slightly on liquidation. Finally short covering and trade buying appeared and the session closed steady.

It is feared a squeeze would be attempted for December delivery as certified stock is small and longs are accepting all possible liquidation. This state is likely to harden near months.

At the opening March was quoted unchanged at 8.42 and this was the lowest level for the day. Later prices advanced to 8.50 which was the highest level reached during the early part of the day. In the afternoon the market was steady and closed at a rise of 9 to 6 points. Spot cotton prices advanced 11 points at 9.08c per lb.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET.

The New Orleads cotton futures market was fairly steady and closed at a rise of 4 to 6 points. Spot cotton prices gained 5 points at 8.70c. per lb.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.

The Liverpool cotton futures market opened unchanged at 4.81 for March. There was light hedging which met with local support, encouraged by scarcity of contracts. There was trade calling and local support of nears and hedging of distants. The market closed at a rise of 2 points to a decline of one point. Middling American Spot cotton prices closed unchanged at 5.08d. per lb.

EGYPTIAN COTTON.

Egyptian cotton futures market was quietly steady. Giza futures closed 1 to 3 points up and Uppers futures closed unchanged. The Alexandria cotton market was easy on increased selling. Sakels futures declined 36 to 15 points and Ashmouni contracts were marked down by 5 to 12 points.

DOMESTIC ALLOTMENT.

"Near positions have been relatively firmer than distant month, although at times differences have fluctuated wildly as a result of transfers of long accounts, largely by Bombay interests, and also of December liquidation through commission houses. Trade shorts have been the best buyers of near months. Hedging operations have been comparatively light and have gone principally into late positions. Prices have evidently not advanced sufficiently to divert cotton into trade channels. Buyers' and sellers' ideas of values are wide apart. Mills are resisting the prices now being asked as demand for textiles is less active.

LOAN COTTON.

It is the general belief that the cotton officially accepted for the loan now totals 1,750,000 bales. Private reports indicate that a larger amount has been earmarked, but not yet officially counted. There is much speculation as to the price at which producers would sell more freely, and many observers believe that it would require an advance to nine cents to check the movement into the loan. Bombay has been best buyer of October, although this demand has recently tapered off, indicating more hesitation among buyers. The firmer tone of Wall Street and of other commodities has encouraged a moderate outside demand, although the unusual complication of the situation have checked general buying.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS.

Business prospects are considered to be favourable. Cotton traders believe that some action as regards textiles is very important and predict that mills, if forced to buy, would have to pay producers' prices. No definite new developments have taken place as regards the possible legislative programme although it is intimated that the President is favourably disposed towards the Domestics Allotment Plan.—"M.G."

Messrs. Patel Brothers have received the following cable from the New York Cotton Exchange Service:—

Loan stock now 10,100 to 10,200 thousand. Entries continue large. Government 1939 cotton programme same as 1938. Wallace warns against continued increase of the loan stock and says that liquidation loan stock is vitally important. Domestic trade gaining; foreign poor.

Messrs. E. J. Schwabach and Co. cable:—

Estimated concentrated long interest December cotton New York 50,000 bales squeeze might be attempted but success beyond present levels unlikely unless they prepared to take up more than present certificated stocks.

Messrs. Chunilal Mehta and Co. Ltd. have received to-day the following cable information from their foreign friends:

Liverpool: Opened steady with one decline to one advance. Nears good on anticipation of rise in basis. Closed steady with near two advance and distant one decline. Bullish.

Messrs. Devkaran Nanjee have received the following cables from their New York friends:

'July 7280 open contracts largest open position of any month. Domestic mills favour July as free stocks will be small then. We favour buying July.'

'December short covering continues. Spot interests expected to receive purchases when tendered. Little pressure to sell.'

Tata Steel Shares Reach New High Levels

ACTIVE SUPPORT ABSORBS ALL REALISINGS

General Feeling Bullish

BOMBAY, Nov. 22.

Tata Steel Shares reached new high levels and the general feeling is in favour of a further rise is increasing.

Yesterday Wall Street market was cheerful and less apprehension over European affairs induced buying and U.S. Steel Shares advanced dol. 5/8 and Anaconda Copper Mining Shares gained one dollar. Steel activity is reported 61.9 per cent. against 62.6 per cent. in the preceding week and 31 per cent. for the same week last year.

As pointed out before there appears more optimistic feeling and it is confidently believed that Tata Dfds. and Ordinary Shares will be given dividends of Rs. 108/13 and Rs. 20 respectively for the current year. Based on these prospects, dividend yield would be very satisfactory and there will be steady appreciation of capital.

Outside speculation still continues at a low ebb and most of the business is confined to professionals and among Bazar Taravanlwallas. Thus in the absence of any accumulation weak speculative interest, it will be advisable to hold purchases until after the turn of the year.

Cotton Mill Shares also ruled fairly steady with a slightly improved demand. Associated Cement shares were also steady.

The Steel Dfds. opened at Rs. 1830 and advanced to Rs. 1855. At this level there was some realising which depressed prices to the opening level, but towards the close there was better support and prices once again reached high levels soon after the opening. All realising sales were readily absorbed and the tone of the market was good indicating ultimately higher prices. There was small realising in Associated Cement Shares during the later part of the season.

Russian Theories Do No Good To India

Kher's Plain-Speaking To Workers At Inauguration Of Labour Centre

How with the growth and progress of industrialisation in this country, poverty and unemployment and misery had increased was explained by Mr. B. G. Kher, the Premier of Bombay, while performing the ceremony of laying foundation of "The Rambilas Anandilal Podar Labour Centre", at De Lisle Road, on Tuesday morning.

The surrounding workers' chawls were agog and a large number of men, women and children were present on the occasion.

The Premier explained that the problem which confronted the country was not how to get rid of the machinery which sought to displace men but as to how to enslave it successfully, so as to satisfy human needs and desires.

At the outset, Mr. Ramnath Podar the Managing Director of the Toyo Podar Cotton Mills, Ltd., narrated how the previous Government and the millowners could not come to any agreement over the purchase of land, for setting up of a labour recreation centre. The Congress Government, however, offered that the land was available and that was how the labour recreation centre came to be estal blished.

Mr. B. G. Kher observed that the occasion was a unique one. He had performed the ceremonies of laying the foundation-stone of several buildings but he had no occasion so far, of performing a ceremony the purpose of which was so noble and the occasion so unique is the one in which he participated at present.

Labour recreation centres were necessary. The chawls of the workers were so small that they could not give them enough accommodation, apart from giving them any relaxation or rest after a hard day's work.

The present state of affairs, the speaker said, had assumed such proportions that the whole of the social fabric had been thrown out of gear. Time was when an owner of a bullock-cart in India used to earn the livelihood of the whole family.

But now one could see huge lorries carrying ten times the weight of the loads of the past days and moving from Peshawar and Lahore to Bombay and still unable to drag one man's existence.

That was all due to industrialisation and mass production. Machinery had penetrated even to the remotest villages and one could see in those villages flour mills at work, whereas those very people fifteen years ago used to take husks and grind corn without the aid of any machinery.

With the appearance of industrialisation, man had been made to forget his human nature. Workers had to toil in the mills for eight hours. And in their abodes they were actually cooped up as there was not sufficient space for all to rest after a hard day's work. The chawls were ill-ventilated and recreation was out of question.

The problem that confronted the people was how to get rid of the machinery which sought to get rid of the workers. The workers could not get rid of the machinery as it had taken a firm root, although it was true to say that industrialisation had not made such rapid and astounding strides as it did in outside countries.

The workers should therefore try to enslave the machinery and to turn it to serve their own needs and purposes.

With the growth of industrialisation, the theory of class conflict had arisen and some persons averred that such a theory was but inevitable.

But the Congress ideology which was the same as that of Mahatma Gandhi was different. They stood for class collaboration. They could not see eye to eye with those people who classified men as tigers and lambs or compared their qualities to diversing factors of fire and water.

CONFLICTING THEORIES

Such destructive influences were at work in Europe where aero-
